BOOKS FOR THE PEOPLE.

WE SELL BOOKS, BOOKS OF EVERY KIND.

SCHOOL BOOKS, READING BOOKS, POETRY AND WORKS OF FICTION, and all the others from Peter Parley's Tales to the Greek Testament. And the point is that by dealing with us you may eat of fruit of THE TREE OF KNOWLEDGE at a less cost than if you go to any other orchard.

PLAIN AND FANCY STATIONERY.

Buy from us; you will save money. Where it's a single pencil or a quire of foolscap, an inkbottle, a bit of rubber, or a writing-case, we can save you money and ensure you satisfaction.

TOBACCO AND CIGARS AT ANTHONY HORDERN'S.

You know the prices, you know the goods. You've not been deceived in the quality; you've been astonished and delighted at the saving made by getting your supplies from us. You won't go back to the old-fashioned sleepy shops and the high prices, will you? You're too wise, aren't you?

JEWELLERY AT ANTHONY HORDERN'S.

They say no one is buying jewellery just now. They, of course, are the down-town jewellers, where high prices drive custom away. We, trading on a different basis, manage to get through some thousands of pounds' worth of trinkets of one kind or another every month. People will not pay a fiver when the same thing can be got for half the money.

BOOTS AND SHOES at ANTHONY HORDERN'S.

We heard of a strange benighted being the other day who did not know we sold Boots and Shoes. He believes it now. He came from the far-away back blocks, and hadn't been in a township or near a city for seven long years. Under any other possible circumstance he could never have remained unconscious of the fact that the BOOTS and SHOES we sell are THE BEST IN AUSTRALIA.

FIND THE MISSING WORD. SPECIAL.

If you supply the correct MISSING WORD in the following sentence we will promptly put aside for delivery on the last Saturday in July ONE PAIR OF OUR FAMOUS RUSSIAN SUEDE GLOVES.

The Missing Word is placed in a sealed envelope in the custody of our Bank Manager, and is known only to the Firm.

SALE COMMENCED ON 1st JULY, AND WILL CONTINUE 27 DAYS.

It may be asked how it is that W. H. M'CLELLAND and CO. have been able to carry on during these troublous times without having recourse to "Reconstruction" or other Sales. The reasons are simple—

1st. Because we have been able to take advantage of a full market both here and at home, by making our purchases later than usual, and were thus able to secure the Newest Goods at much lower rates.

2nd. Because the Public, with their usual ... have recognised the fact, and purchased only at good value prices, and not at so-called Sale prices.

JOSEPSON'S OINTMENT.

BY ROYAL LETTERS PATENT.

THE MOST USEFUL OINTMENT IN THE WORLD BAR NONE.

There was never yet anything invented that is really and intrinsically good, first-class, and in great demand, that was not imitated, or some spurious manufacture was not palmed on the public as the real thing. Now, since the first introduction of Josephson's Australian Ointment to the public it still stands unrivalled, because it has proved itself ALL it professed to be.

We see published all kinds of preparations of the EUCALYPTUS in various forms, but the chief ingredient of JOSEPHSON'S OINTMENT is the Eucalyptus, so that all these new-fangled productions are old in comparison with JOSEPHSON'S OINTMENT; in fact, they have been finding out "MARE'S NESTS," while the pure and unadulterated essence and colour of the EUCALYPTUS is fully embodied in JOSEPHSON'S OINTMENT.

Josephson's Ointment has been used by the public for so many years that it does not require puffing; it has worked its way and still holds its own, and yet stands the PREMIER OINTMENT IN THE SOUTHERN HEMISPHERE.

But as many new arrivals have made New South Wales their home, it may be as well to let them know that there is such an article as JOSEPHSON'S OINTMENT, purely the production of the colony, composed of wild plants indigenous to the country and nowhere else, the principal of which is the EUCALYPTUS, now so famed throughout the world.

JOSEPHSON'S OINTMENT is purely vegetable, and GUARANTEED FREE FROM ALL POISONOUS QUALITIES. NO ARTIFICIAL COLOURING, as the GREEN colour is extracted from the pure green plants which defy imitation. The scent of the Eucalyptus is pleasant and natural, and JOSEPHSON'S OINTMENT is free from all greasy smells so generally prevalent in salves. Testimonials and certificates of the almost miraculous cures it has effected can be seen at the stores of the undersigned. The hundreds of thousands of such would require a newspaper alone to publish them.

DO YOU SUFFER FROM CHILBLAINS

JOSEPHSON'S AUSTRALIAN OINTMENT will CURE YOU. TRY IT.

One or two applications will cure BROKEN CHILBLAINS.

In fact, JOSEPHSON'S OINTMENT is proved to be the best and most useful ointment in the world.

One trial alone will satisfy the most fastidious, and will prove that nothing of the kind has ever yet been produced that can rival JOSEPHSON'S OINTMENT.

May be had of all chemists.

THE Stomach exercises a great influence over our daily happiness.

Mrs. Hannah More says, in her quaint way, "There are only two bad things in the world, sin and bile." When in a perfectly healthy condition everything goes well. ABRAHAM'S PILLS never fail to remove the horrors of dyspepsia and indigestion, that are mainly owing to a stomach out of order.

TWO POUNDS PER WEEK is the cost of Nursing a Scalded Limb. This is saved by keeping a pot of MOORE'S HOUSEHOLD REMEDY OINTMENT on hand. It removes the pain in 5 minutes, and prevents a sore, cures chilblains, corns, piles, sore eyes, styes, and all kinds of sores. No other ointment holds certificates from all foundries in Sydney. A pot should be kept in every house; if the house is empty it will suit the next tenant. 1s pots, red labels. Take no other. Sold by all chemists and stores, and ELLIOTT BROS., Sydney.

LAW REPORT.

SUPREME COURT.—Thursday, July 6.

In Chambers.—(Before Mr. Justice Windeyer.)

PROUDFOOT V. COMMISSIONERS FOR RAILWAYS.

Mr. Pilcher, Q.C., and A. O'Connor, instructed by Messrs. Levy, Hemsley, and Perkins, appeared for the plaintiff; and Mr. Want, Q.C. and Mr. Delohery, instructed by Mr. Robert Smith, for the defendants. This application, which was one by the plaintiff for discovery, was adjourned a few days ago until to-day, in order that some arrangement might be come to as to what documents should be open to inspection by the plaintiff. Mr. Want stated that no understanding had been arrived at; on the contrary, his client had to file an affidavit stating that certain documents had been shown to his solicitor, but a great many had been withheld. What he wanted to do was to have the books produced in court, and he did not care about seeing them so long as his Honor saw them.

Mr. Pilcher pointed out that many of the documents which the other side required were merely communications between gangers and their superintendent or foreman, and the list furnished by plaintiff showing what he wanted would fill a waggon. The defendant's solicitor said that he had already disclosed everything which was material to the case.

His Honor: The books which I ordered to be produced ought to be here now. The matter must stand over until to-morrow morning, and if it is not definitely settled by then it will stand over until the Full Court meets again.

Adjourned accordingly.

M'MULLEN V. M'MULLEN.

Mr. Lusk appeared for the petitioner (the wife), and moved to dispense with service upon the respondent, Ernest M'Mullen. In support of the application an affidavit by the petitioner was read stating that respondent had left her immediately after the marriage, and was now supposed to be in England, but his address was not known. The marriage took place on the 28th April, 1890. His Honor dispensed with service, and directed that the citation should be advertised once in a Sydney daily newspaper. The issues were settled as marriage and desertion for three years and upwards, and the trial was fixed for the 16th August.

PHILLIPS V. PHILLIPS.

Mr. Ralston appeared for the petitioner (the wife), and moved that service upon the respondent might be dispensed with. The parties were married on the 24th July, 1889, at Dubbo, and, according to petitioner's affidavit, her husband deserted her very shortly afterwards. Up to the time of leaving her he had been constantly drinking. He went away on a drinking bout, and his effects were sold up, and he then left Dubbo, and petitioner had not heard of him since, although she had made diligent search to ascertain his whereabouts. His Honor dispensed with service on respondent, and directed the citation should be advertised three times in the Dubbo newspaper. The issues were settled as marriage and desertion for three years and upwards. The trial was fixed for 16th August.

PARKER V. PARKER.

Mr. Tarleton appeared for the petitioner (the wife), and moved to dispense with further service upon the respondent. Petitioner in her affidavit stated that her husband was, on the 28th January, 1892, sentenced to three months' imprisonment for wife-desertion. Since he had completed his term of imprisonment his whereabouts could not be ascertained, although petitioner had made every inquiry about him. His Honor dispensed with service, and directed that the citation should be advertised twice on or before the 1st August. The issues were settled as marriage and desertion for three years and upwards, and the hearing was set down for the 16th August.

GOODIN V. GOODIN.

Mr. Tarleton appeared for the petitioner (the husband), and applied that further service upon the respondent and co-respondent might be dispensed with. He said that they had both appeared in the suit, but had filed no answer to the petition. Further service was dispensed with, and the issues were settled as marriage and adultery. The trial was fixed for the 16th August.

BRUCE V. BRUCE.

Mr. Murdoch appeared for the petitioner (the wife), and moved for a writ of attachment against the respondent for disobedience of an order for the payment of £20 towards petitioner's costs. The respondent appeared in person, and by consent the order asked for was granted, writ to lie in the office for one week, by which time respondent said he would be in a position to pay the money into court.

DRANE V. DRANE.

Mr. William Arnott appeared for the petitioner (the wife), and moved to dispense with service upon the respondent. Petitioner stated that the respondent deserted her in June, 1885, and she last saw him in 1890, when he left Sydney. She afterwards ascertained that he was in the New Hebrides, but had since left there. His Honor granted the application, and directed that the citation should be advertised once. The issues were settled as marriage, habitual drunkenness for three years and upwards, habitually leaving petitioner without means of support, and desertion for three years and upwards. The hearing was fixed for the 16th August, without a jury.

KELLY V. KELLY.

Mr. Thompson (Richardson and Thompson) appeared for the petitioner (the wife), and moved to dispense with service on the respondent. The respondent, it was said, had deserted petitioner on the 13th April, 1889, and a warrant had since been issued for his arrest, but his whereabouts could not be ascertained. The application was granted, and the issues were settled as marriage and desertion for three years and upwards. The hearing was fixed for the 16th August.

SHEPHERD V. SHEPHERD.

Mr. Passmore (instructed by Mr. F. E. M'Naughton) appeared for the petitioner (the wife), and moved for an order dispensing with service upon the respondent. Petitioner, in her affidavit, stated that she was married to respondent in January, 1890, and in June of the same year, owing to repeated acts of cruelty, she was compelled to leave him. Respondent went away to Bourke, and afterwards to Wilcannia; but she had been unable to trace him further. The application was granted, and his Honor ordered that the citation should be advertised. The issues were settled as marriage, desertion, and cruelty, and the hearing was fixed for 16th August.

DICK V. DICK.

On the application of Mr. Wallace, who appeared for petitioner (the wife), the issues were settled as marriage and desertion for three years and upwards. The hearing was fixed for the 16th August. His Honor made an order for 15 guineas for petitioner's costs.

PACKER V. PACKER.

His Honor made absolute the decree nisi for the dissolution of the marriage of Ida Elizabeth Packer and Goodwin Robert Packer, and declared the marriage dissolved accordingly. Petitioner to have the custody of the child.

METROPOLITAN QUARTER SESSIONS.

Thursday.

(Before his Honor Judge Coffey.)

Mr. W. L. Merewether prosecuted on behalf of the Crown.

ALLEGED BREAKING AND ENTERING.

John Holden and Joseph Anderson were charged with having, on the 6th March last, at Sydney, broken and entered the dwelling-house of Sammy Lee and stolen therefrom a safe, a clock, and a quantity of household furniture.

On the application of the Crown Prosecutor, the accused were each bound over to appear and take their trial when called upon.

ALLEGED LARCENY.

Claude Henry Tietyens was charged with stealing a travelling bag, the property of Edward L. Jones and another, of Sydney, on the 20th February last.

Mr. Crick appeared for the accused, and on his application the case was postponed till next Quarter Sessions.

ALLEGED ABDUCTION.

Edward Curtin was charged with having, on March 15, at Sydney, fraudulently taken away Flora Jane Harrison, a female under 21 years—to wit, of the age of 14 years and 11 months—out of the possession and against the will of William James Harrison, her lawful guardian.

On the application of the Crown Prosecutor, who said the accused had since married the girl, the accused was bound over to appear for trial when called upon.

LARCENY.

Ernest Bell was charged with having, on the 27th February last at Darlington, stolen a watch and chain and the sum of £14 5s, the property of Erik Hansen Rasmussen. The facts as set forth for the prosecution were that on the 27th February Bell got into conversation with Rasmussen in the street, and represented that he was a stranger from the country, and that his "boss was with him" and wanted to engage men to work for him at 8s a day. They adjourned to the Lalla Rookh Hotel, Newtown-road, Darlington; and here another man, the boss, put in an appearance. Shortly afterwards a third man appeared, supposed to be a stranger to all. Conversation became general, and turned on the amount of money each of them could produce. Rasmussen produced the most. The third man told a story about a game he had seen a few evenings before, and they started playing this game. Rasmussen joined in, and the result was that he lost all he had. King, the boss, was arrested, and at the last Quarter Sessions pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to penal servitude for three years and six months. Bell had also been arrested, but had absconded from his bail. Since then he had been rearrested. The jury returned a verdict of guilty. The prisoner was remanded for sentence, pending inquiries being made about his antecedents.

The following appeals from magistrates' decisions are set down for hearing at 11 a.m. to-day:—Henry Cohen appellant, police respondents; Gilbert Charles P. Smith appellant, police respondents; Edward Rebello, private appeal.

THE MILLER'S POINT TRAGEDY.

CONTINUATION OF THE INQUEST.

The City Coroner, Mr. J. C. Woore, J.P., resumed at his court, Chancery-square, yesterday morning, the inquest concerning the death of Thomas Pert at Miller's Point on Sunday week. The nine men and youths charged with having, in company one with the other, caused Pert's death were present in custody—namely, James Maguire, 27, labourer; Henry Doohan, 19, steward; Thomas Howell, 18, labourer; David Howell, 19, printer; William Pearson, 18, compositor; Rudolph van Kampen, 20, labourer; Edward Rich, 26, seaman; Thomas George Reed, 20, drayman; and Robert Milross, 22, vandriver.

Mr. P. J. Healy, instructed by Mr. E. H. Wilshire (for the Crown Solicitor), conducted the case for the Crown; Messrs. Crick and Meagher appeared on behalf of Pearson, Rich, Reed, and Doohan; and Mr. T. M. Williamson defended Thomas and David Howell, and also Maguire.

George Philanters was recalled. He said (through an interpreter) that Reed tripped deceased during the fight, and Rich kicked him behind the ear. Milross and another man, who was not before the Court, pushed deceased over when Reed tripped him.

Dr. Jamieson (recalled) said that if any blood had escaped from the deceased's lungs into the bronchi during life witness would have found some traces of it. If Dr. Milford found any blood in the bronchi it could only have got there when he (Dr. Milford) cut the pulmonary veins. Had blood been effused into the lungs during life, it would have been sucked into the minute ramifications of the air-cells, and would have been present when he made his examination. He was absolutely certain that the appearance of the deep tissue on the right side of the neck was not post-mortem discolouration, but was caused by blood which had been extravasated during life, and which had been caused by violence. The condition of the inner surface of the ribs on the left side was also due to violence.

By Mr. Healy: Had there been a sudden extravasation of blood into the lungs during life, it was absolutely certain that a portion of it would have been coughed up. He, however, found no trace whatever of any blood in the mouth.

By Mr. Meagher: It was not usual for the lungs of a person who had been drowned to float when placed in water. The condition of the heart, as described by Dr. Milford, was exactly that which one would expect to find in cases of death from respiratory paralysis, and was in accordance with death from asphyxia in any form.

Dr. Rennie, pathologist to the Prince Alfred Hospital, corroborated Dr. Jamieson's testimony.

Dr. Milford, recalled, stated that an injury to the head such as had been described by Dr. Jamieson and Dr. Rennie might have existed without his discovering it. He did not think that there was one such as might have caused death. After having heard the evidence of Dr. Jamieson and Dr. Rennie, he had no reason to alter his opinion as to the cause of death.

By the jury: Such a blow as that described, if received behind the ear, might result in injuries which would cause death. In this case, in his opinion, such an injury had nothing to do with the death.

The Coroner intimated that, the case being an important one, he would postpone his summing-up until Monday morning next.

POLICE.

At the Central Police Court yesterday, Mr. James Giles, S.M., presided in the Charge Division, and Mr. Addison, S.M., disposed of the business in the Summons Division. James Glenn, 20, a labourer, and George Williams, 41, a labourer, were each fined £1, with the alternative of 21 days' imprisonment, for having in company stolen two quarters of onions, valued at 3s, the property of Henry William Delarue. Jeremiah Murphy, 25, having maliciously injured four panes of glass, valued at £1 10s, was fined £1, and ordered to pay the amount of damage done, in default two months' imprisonment. Harriett Smith, 49, a widow, was sentenced to four hours' imprisonment in the cells on a charge of having had a half-pint nickel-plated measure in her possession, reasonably supposed to have been stolen. In the Summons Division, L. Frederich and Agnes Stongie were each fined £2, with costs, for having permitted filth to remain on their premises.

At the Water Police Court, Mr. C. Delohery, S.M., presided in the Charge Division. Frederick M'Kay, for the 16th time, was brought up charged with inflicting grievous bodily harm on Agnes M'Kay. This was a case in which accused is alleged to have thrown some kerosene over his wife, and set fire to her. The unfortunate woman is now in the hospital. The case was again remanded for a week. Francis Bennett, a youth, who the previous day pleaded guilty to stealing two telephone-receivers from the Empire Hotel, but asked for a remand to call evidence as to character, was again brought up. Mr. W. J. Hill appeared for him, and called prisoner's employer, who said he was a trustworthy lad, occupying a position of responsibility. The police also gave him a good character. Mr. Delohery said the case would be met by a fine of 20s; in default, 21 days. Robert Mitchell, 42, fireman, was charged with stealing a pair of shoes, value 8s 6d, from Mr. E. A. Swinburne's shop in George-street. Accused had one of the shoes in his possession when prosecutor saw him, and the other was lying in the footpath. He was sentenced to one month's imprisonment, with hard labour. Mr. O'Malley Clarke, S.M., presided in the Summons Division. John Kelly, licensee of the Gulgong Hotel, Bourke-street, was fined 20s for selling liquor on Sunday; and Michael Fitzpatrick, of the British Seamen's Hotel, Argyle-street, was fined in a similar sum for keeping his premises open during prohibited hours.

At the Paddington Police Court, before Mr. G. O'Malley Clarke, S.M., Thomas Morgan, 47, canvasser, was charged with stealing a tablecloth and clock, value 10s, from the dwelling-house of Frank Thompson, 430 Oxford-street, Paddington. He was sentenced to six months' imprisonment with hard labour. He was further charged with stealing from the dwelling-house of William O'Shea, 14 Caledonia-street, Paddington, one silver watch and one silver albert and locket, of the value of £5. Prisoner, having elected to be dealt with summarily, was sentenced to six months' imprisonment, cumulative on his previous sentence. James Jones, alias M'Lachlan, 30, labourer, was charged with being on the premises of Charles F. Stratton, Grand Hotel, Waverley, for an unlawful purpose. The police had received complaints of his prowling about in a suspicious manner. He was arrested in a bedroom of the hotel—in which he was without any authority of the landlord, in fact he had undressed and gone to bed—by Senior-constable Bowler and Constable Sinclair. A sentence of one month's hard labour was imposed.

ALLEGED THEFT BY A LETTER-CARRIER.

At the Redfern Police Court yesterday, before Mr. Whittingdale Johnson, S.M., William Whisker, 24, letter-carrier, was charged with having stolen a letter sent by post, the property of the Postmaster-General. Mr. T. M. Williamson appeared for the defence. Detective William Gowan, stationed at the General Post Office, said that, acting upon instructions, he made up a test letter which contained a half-sovereign, addressed ——, Young-street, Redfern. Later he hid himself in a press at the Redfern post office. He saw the "test" letter placed by the postmaster in the accused's division for delivery. Whisker cleared the pigeon-hole, and, having sorted the letters at his own table, witness saw him feel the test letter and place it beneath the others. Accused then left the office to deliver his letters. When accused returned, witness took him to the postmaster, to whom he denied having seen the letter in question. Witness searched accused, but found no traces of the letter upon him. Later, witness found some fragments of a letter in an outhouse, and the postmaster identified these as portions of the test letter. Mr. Williamson submitted that no case had been made out, but Mr. Johnson held otherwise, and committed accused for trial at the Quarter Sessions. Bail was allowed.

PREACHING IN THE STREETS.

A TEST CASE.

In the Summons Division of the Central Police Court yesterday, before Mr. G. W. F. Addison, S.M., Mr. Seymour, inspector of nuisances to the Sydney Municipal Council, proceeded against Edward P. Field, a barrister-at-law, for having committed a breach of the City Corporation By-laws, by standing on the footway of Moore-street, to the inconvenience of passers-by. The information further charged the defendant with having refused to discontinue loitering when required to do so by a police officer. The court was crowded throughout the day by clergymen, persons interested in the work of the Salvation Army, the various missions, and others. The hearing of the case occupied a considerable portion of the morning and the whole of the afternoon, and the police were continually cautioning the spectators who periodically applauded.

Mr. Field, who conducted his own defence, took an objection to the information, which he contended was wrongly worded, inasmuch as he was not loitering, but standing. The objection was allowed to stand over.

Sergeant Murphy deposed that on the 22nd June, at about 1.30 in the afternoon, he saw a crowd of about 200 persons assembled on the sidewalk of Moore-street, where a religious meeting was being held. He intimated to the person who was standing on a box addressing the crowd that he was committing a breach of the law. The person addressed immediately vacated his position, and thereupon the defendant commenced to speak. Witness cautioned him, but defendant refused to move. Witness then told him that he would have to summon him, and the defendant replied "I know that." Action was taken on account of numerous complaints which had been lodged. The sidewalk of Moore-street was daily blocked, and passengers had to go into the roadway in order to pass.

The defendant said that Moore-street was extremely wide, and passengers could not be inconvenienced. The meetings were held during the luncheon hour. When he wished to walk down Moore-street he invariably chose the other side.

The magistrate: Do you think that that entitles you to block the opposite footpath?

The defendant: No, your Worship.

The magistrate: If you like we will asphalt the other sidewalk for you.

The defendant said that he had a number of witnesses to call for the defence, who would prove that the passengers had not in any way been inconvenienced.

Henry Gorman, carrying on business in the vicinity of Moore-street, deposed that the religious meetings which were held there every afternoon did not block the thoroughfare.

Rev. J. W. Gillett said that he attended the meetings daily, and was in a position to know that the convenience of the public was not interfered with. Sometimes persons had to go into the roadway in order to pass.

The magistrate to the defendant: "Don't you call that an inconvenience?"

The defendant: It is not worthy of the attention of the Court.

The magistrate: If it is allowed in one case it must be allowed in another. It would be a nice state of things if this was permitted in every thoroughfare.

William Dibley, Henry Walters (a clerk), John Austin, Richard Burns, Benjamin Fawcett (an architect), and Edward Trickett (ex-champion sculler), were called, and stated that the religious meetings did not cause any inconvenience to the public.

The defendant made a long speech in reply. He said that there was a real necessity for them to try to spread amongst the people the knowledge that our Saviour loved and died for them. If they could stop him in Moore-street, they could stop his meetings at Coogee, and they could stop nearly all religious meetings. They could stop meetings in the Domain, and all mission and Salvation Army meetings. It was a matter of the utmost importance.

The magistrate: It is a matter of the utmost importance if our streets are blocked on these occasions, I don't care whether by political, religious, or other meetings.

The defendant: I have a large number of well-known citizens to prove that we have caused no inconvenience, and the Hon. F. T. Humphrey, M.L.C., would have given evidence had he not been detained.

The magistrate: There are plenty of open places in the city without coming into a public street within 100 yards of the Post Office.

The defendant: The people will not come to us; we have tried that. We must go to them. If there were more meetings of this kind we should not find men kicked to death in daylight in our city. Religion is the only one thing that will put down crime. We must change the hearts of the people by imparting to them a knowledge of the Saviour and his love.

The magistrate: I have nothing to say against the movement. On the contrary, I approve of it in the proper place, but not in places where the traffic of the city is interrupted.

The defendant: We must tell the people the truth. We are commanded to go into the highways and byways and preach the Gospel to every creature. And another point is that I am not charged with interrupting the traffic.

The magistrate: There is another charge to that effect.

The defendant: There is no information before your Worship charging me with that.

The magistrate: This is a very fine point.

The defendant: If one person goes down a street he often blocks another, and what is the difference in this case?

The magistrate: One is avoidable and the other is unavoidable.

The defendant: It is simply taking from me my right to use the public street. He went on to say that the case should be dismissed. These meetings had been held for the last 15 months. The police said that complaints had been made against these meetings, but they had not brought anyone forward who had been inconvenienced. If there was no statute at all, and if there was no by-law on the subject, the moment he had any reason to suppose that he was inconveniencing any person he would at once stop. On one occasion, for instance, at Coogee, he heard some one say that a person near at hand was ill and he immediately removed his meeting a distance of 300 yards. He claimed his right as a citizen of this city, and he objected to certain individual lodging complaints without coming before the Court, because they disagreed from the object of the meetings. The time of the Court and the whole function of justice had been taken up in that way in order to carry out some secret objection. He said that this was a travesty on justice—(applause and "silence")—and a monstrous thing. He was simply carrying out his bounden duty to his fellow-citizens. (Applause.) Religion was what the city really wanted, and it was no use for Courts of Justices to fine drunkards and others and let them go. They should attempt to change these men's hearts, and there was nothing that could change the heart of man except the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ.

The magistrate: The evidence clearly shows that there has been a distinct breach of the law; therefore it is my duty to convict.

A Spectator: Shame! Shame!

The magistrate (sternly): Who says "Shame?" I'll teach you to behave yourself in court, sir. (Continuing): However good the objects of the meetings may be that is not a question for me to decide. I have to decide whether this bylaw has been broken or not, and I think most distinctly it has. If I said otherwise I should be establishing a very bad precedent, and the streets would be occupied by meetings both with the objects you have and with bad ones, much to the inconvenience of the public. (To Mr. Merriman): I presume the prosecution does not ask for a heavy fine.

Mr. Merriman: No your worship.

The magistrate (to defendant): I fine you 20s, with 5s 6d costs of court.

The defendant (to the magistrate): As no doubt you are aware this matter will be decided in another court. There are a number of persons who have notified their desire to pay the fine, but I respectfully ask that it will not be accepted until after the appeal to the Supreme Court.

The magistrate: You cannot appeal, as the amount is under £5.

The defendant: Well, your Worship knows what I mean. I intend to apply to the Supreme Court for a prohibition.

The Court then adjourned.

THE KENT-STREET FIRE.

CORONER'S INQUEST.

The inquest into the cause of the fire which broke out on Thursday morning in a warehouse in Kent-street, occupied by Messrs. Pyman, Harkness, and Co., was continued before Mr. W. T. Pinhey, J.P. (Deputy City Coroner), at the Central Police Court, yesterday. Mr. N. Montagu appeared for the Fire Brigades Board, Mr. George Evans for the Messrs. Harkness, and Mr. Houston for Mr. Pyman. Sub-inspector Tindall watched the case on behalf of the police force.

Sergeant Johnston produced five insurance policies on the stock for £1000 each on the Caledonian, London and Lancashire, Scottish Union National, Northern, and the Queensland Mutual companies. The policies were handed to witness by John C. Harkness.

George Long, a member of the M.F.B., gave evidence in regard to the attempts made to force off the locks. It was found that the bolts had been shot.

Edward Smith, another fireman, gave corroborative evidence. The two bolts on the doors of the Clarence-street entrance had been shot.

Richard Hales Pyman, one of the partners of the firm of Pyman, Harkness, and Co., deposed that the first intimation he received of the fire was from the police at 3.15 on the morning of the 29th June. He was aware that a large amount of stock had been taken out of bond in March last, and he also admitted that no balance-sheet had been drawn up for the past two years. On the 28th ultimo he did not see straw in the showroom, and there was not much anywhere in the building. He believed that the goods in bond were worth £11,000. There was no deed of partnership in connection with the firm. Each partner took £5 per week, and the profits went into the firm.

John Ogle, a cabinetmaker, in the employ of the firm, said that when he left the premises on the evening of the 28th ultimo they were in their usual clean state.

The inquest was adjourned until this morning.

THE PASTORALISTS' UNION OF NEW SOUTH WALES.

The third annual general meeting of members of the Pastoralists' Union of New South Wales was held in the Wool Saleroom, Wool Exchange, Macquarie-place, last evening. A large number of members were present, and others were represented by proxy.

Mr. A. A. Dangar, President of the Union, occupied the chair.

The President delivered the following address:—Gentlemen, members of the Pastoralists' Union,—This evening we are assembled here to celebrate the third anniversary of the establishment of our union, to acknowledge the benefits derived by pastoralists particularly—and I contend, the public generally—from the establishment of this union, and to ascertain what has been accomplished during the past 12 months, and in what position we now stand. At the outset it is my pleasing duty to be able to congratulate you on our position, and the spirit of union which continues to animate our members. Although we exist as a union, and a defensive union, in times of industrial peace, and whilst there may not be the same enthusiasm amongst our members as was so manifest when we were battling for our own liberty and the liberty of our workmen, there is no indication of disloyalty to the union or its objects, excepting always a few weak-kneed individuals who will never work with their fellows, but who at the same time are not unwilling to participate in all the benefits of our combination free of cost to themselves. During the four or five months in which I have held presidential office, in succession to the Hon. G. H. Cox, who resigned in January last, indeed, during the past 12 months, we pastoralists have been free from labour difficulties of any kind, and our efforts have been chiefly directed to the buttressing of our organisation and legislating for the future. This is work which, whilst it lacks the exciting interest of active warfare, is equally necessary for the maintenance of our position, and I take the earliest opportunity of thanking those members of the council upon whom, by reason of their residence in town, the bulk of this dull routine work has fallen, for their regular attendance at council meetings, and their attention to the business of the union, taking up much of their time, which is given voluntarily, and always, be it remembered, without remuneration. At our last annual meeting it was decided to appoint an executive committee. This has never been acted upon, but I think the time has come for the council to seriously consider whether it would not be advisable to appoint this executive to take up the routine work of the union, having perhaps only quarterly meetings of the council. Whilst in our own particular industry there have been no labour difficulties of any importance, pastoralists can only congratulate themselves on that fact with a feeling of keen regret that others have not been so fortunate. The details of the difficulty between the miners and their employers at Broken Hill, and between the dock labourers and their employers at Hull, are still so fresh in your minds that I need not refer to them beyond reminding you that "freedom of contract" the right of any man to give or accept employment for which we fought so hard, again asserted itself in these disputes, while during the past few weeks several other strikes of more or less importance have taken place or are threatened. The strike at Messrs. Richards' Riverstone Works more immediately concerns us, both from the nature of the work and Mr. B. Richards being a member of our union. There, I am glad to know, freedom of contract again asserted itself—the employer, the man who finds the capital and takes the risk, refusing any longer to be dictated to by the Slaughtermen's Union, and is now working with a full staff of non-union men, paying them practically the same wages as the unionists received, without having to put up with any of their exactions. Freedom of contract, in my opinion, should be the watchword of employers all the wide world over, and then if once established we should have industrial peace and employment for many more than are now receiving it; those who, in times like the present, in fact more or less than at all times, are forced into idleness by the rules of modern trade unionism, which at the same time intimidates the man of means from embarking in any industry, and thus creates a dearth of employment. Looking farther afield we see that, whilst we have much to be thankful for in Australia, there have been, as the result of differences between employers and workmen, scenes of violence and even death in other parts of the world—as witness the deplorable results at Mr. Carnegie's ironworks at Homestead—hitherto unparalleled in the history of industrial troubles. All these occurrences, which may be attributed to the teachings of this new unionism and the socialists who are at the head of it, must strengthen the opinion that these many misguided men are the dupes of designing leaders, who are ever ready to imperil the relations between employees and employer, and bring widespread distress upon the men they profess to serve, as was the case here three years ago when the formation of this union was forced upon us. The lessons of the past, combined with the facts of to-day which we see around us, should convince pastoralists of the necessity of maintaining and strengthening our union year by year. It is not sufficient that we unite to resist such sudden attacks as those we have had to face. The combination must be permanent to be effective, and we must stand shoulder to shoulder in times of industrial peace as well as in troublous times if we are to preserve our rights and keep the position impregnable. This is so self-evident that it is hardly necessary to state it; the more so that the pastoralists' organisation throughout Australia, representing as it does 75 per cent. of the total number of sheep depasturing on the continent, is as solid to-day as it was during the shearing difficulty of 1890-91. Our union was established for defensive and not offensive purposes, and although there are many reasons why the question of a reduction of wages should be considered, two meetings of our federal council took no decided steps towards the adoption of that policy which the severe and unparalleled depression everywhere existing would seem to justify. I am not one of those who advocate depressing wages to the lowest point on the first provocation, but believe rather in paying a fair rate according to the times, and I hope, gentlemen, that that policy will always be followed out and acted upon by this union with firmness and decision, carrying out to the letter whatever is decided upon after due and proper deliberation. It is distressing to see so many idle men walking about the country in search of work, most of them able bodied and strong, begging for work and failing to get it; asking for food, which, as all of you know, has become a positive tax upon us pastoralists and country people generally. It was not so a few years ago, and for this state of things they have in my opinion to thank the president of the Shearers' Union more than any other man in Australia, for he has been foremost in preaching this crusade against capital, which has tended in a great degree to bring about the depression from which the country is now suffering. It is true that as a class we have to put up with much abuse and misrepresentation; the socialists, the anarchists, the profit-sharers, and others from whom one might expect better things, are constantly charging us with having no idea above the accumulation of wealth, and offering their nostrums for the amelioration of humanity after they shall have first disposed of us. All employers are summed up alike as capitalists, who live by robbing the workers. There may be, and of course are, objections to any system that permits men to accumulate wealth by oppressing others, but in these days of a free and enlightened press circulating everywhere, I hold that such a thing cannot be done—at any rate, not to any extent, or for any time. Publicity and public opinion together would soon put a stop to any such system. How few are there in these colonies who, if wealthy men now, have not borne the heat and burden of the day in their time—men who, by untiring energy, patient industry, and great perseverance, have literally "hewn homes out of the wilderness," and thereby largely helped towards the settlement of what our rulers are now so fond of designating "this great country." The "great country" was glad enough to receive these men long years ago, and why should they now be vilified and abused if they have established homes in it, and those homes have acquired some value? It has come about by force of circumstances, and these men and smaller holders who have established themselves by dint of hard work and perseverance are not to be blamed. I confess I cannot understand the insensate cry against "capital" as it is represented by such men, so long as the competence acquired was honestly won and is rationally employed. And yet we hear this cry from our so-called labour leaders and labour representatives on every side. To the latter I commend the words of Chief Howard, an American labour leader, who, speaking of the relations of capital and labour at a recent convention of railway employees in Kentucky, on which occasion he presided, said:—"I have been asked if I did not act as a general rule despise capitalists, and I answered 'no,' that I was a capitalist myself, and the world is full of capitalists. Every human being in the world that has good brains and health is a capitalist; every one who has five cents in his pocket over and above what he owes is a capitalist. It is impossible for capital and labour to conflict with each other. People do not always agree, but capital and labour always go hand in hand, and it is impossible for it to be otherwise. One cannot possibly exist without the other, and such men as are always engaged in trying to excite the envy of the unfortunate and the malice of the poor, should be considered as enemies to humanity and good society." Good, sound words, these, such as our labour leaders and labour representatives do not indulge in. Last year, you will remember, our president in his address bitterly complained of the action of the then Government in July, 1891, in trying to force us into a conference, while at the same time our free shearers and labourers were being battered and maltreated for want of sufficient police protection. We want no Government to take sides with us, but its protection should be extended to all alike, and law and order maintained at all hazards; and that, I am glad to see, the present Government have had the courage to do without any hesitation and without fear or favour. I compliment them upon their action, and I hope we may always have a Premier with the courage to act with firmness when called upon to do so, and the welfare of the country demands it. The revenue for the year shows, I am glad to say, that the union is still solid in its membership, whilst it is gratifying to be able to state that there has been no necessity for making a levy on members, but that the small annual contribution of 5s per 1000 sheep has been more than sufficient to meet ordinary working expenses. Some of our funds on deposit were locked up for a time in two of the suspended banks; satisfactory arrangements, however, were made, and the money is again at interest, available if wanted. Members must not think that the union can be run for little or nothing. We have to rent offices, and they are not to be had for nothing in Sydney; then our district committees and meetings of our federal council all cost something. The correspondence is enormous, and, in order to be prepared at any time for emergencies, we have to keep up an efficient staff, all of whom, with Mr. Whiteley King, our very able secretary, have been with us nearly from the start, and it affords me much pleasure to testify to their zeal and Mr. King's admitted ability. I do not think we could be better served than we are. I at one time held the opinion, which was, I believe, entertained by other members, that we should seek to build up a very large fund for defensive purposes. I have modified my views though on this point, for with our large and powerful membership, and power of levy which was so well responded to in 1890 and 1891, we can always command a sufficiency of money which, let us hope, may never be necessary to call up, and it certainly will not be so long as we are not forced to defend ourselves. In conclusion, I desire to say that it has always appeared to me that the credit which was due to this union for the stand it made, and its work in the past, has not been given to it by the public at large, and is apt to be forgotten even by those most concerned in these times of pastoral peace. I assert without fear of contradiction that but for our combination in 1890 and 1891 the colonies would have been in a state of anarchy, and under the heel of a hard and fast unionism, and that it would have been impossible to have carried on the pastoral work of the country (so important to its best interests). Members should remember this, and continue stanch to the union, whilst their efforts should be directed to make its objects more widely known and appreciated by their brother pastoralists throughout the colonies. Gentlemen, I trust I have not wearied you with these lengthy remarks. I have been an active member of this union since its inception, and have, as most of you know, taken a warm interest in it. With many other good and stanch men whom I see here to-night, I determined that we would at least endeavour to secure the control of our own affairs and be masters of our own properties. We have expended much money in defending ourselves and our neighbours, but it has been money well spent, for the position was at one time serious; and we may at least congratulate ourselves that not only we, but the country generally, have been defended in a great measure by our efforts from a danger which at one time threatened to be fatally prejudicial to its highest and best interests.

The Secretary (Mr. Whiteley King) then read his annual report, which congratulated members on the strong position the union continued to hold in the industrial community, the gratifying solidarity of the organisation, and the comparative immunity which members enjoyed from labour troubles as the result of its operations and the administration of its affairs. He referred to the manner in which the shearing was conducted last season, and the business transacted at the several meetings of the Pastoralists' Federal Council of Australia, held during the year at Adelaide and Sydney. The report then dealt more particularly with matters bearing on the internal management of the Union, and stated that, notwithstanding the general depression, and the unfortunate banking crisis through which the colony has recently passed, members continue loyally to support the Union, and that the number of sheep represented by membership in the Union exceeded by over a million and a half the number represented by membership at 30th June last. Feeling reference was also made to the gaps created in the membership roll by death, the union having lost from this cause The Hon. William Halliday, of Brookong, and Messrs. P. J. Tobin, of Wingadee, E. K. Crace, of Gungahleen; and George Mair, of Douro. The secretary next dealt with the office system of registration and engagement, which he stated had advanced very much in favour both with employers and employees. The approaching shearing season promised to be free from labour troubles of any kind, and up to the present six or eight sheds on the Paroo had started with full boards. All engaged through the head office, and managers reported that the work is proceeding satisfactorily.

The balance-sheet was presented and adopted.

The Secretary reported that the following members had been elected members of council for the districts opposite their names:—Messrs. W. Dickson (Brewarrina), P. Oakden (Cobar), F. E. Body (Dubbo), J. Cunningham (Monaro), R. D. Barton (Narrabri), S. Clift and J. M. L. Macdonald (Tamworth), A. S. Barton (Walgett), and C. S. Hebden (Wanaaring).

The meeting then proceeded to fill vacancies on the council as follows:—Messrs. A. A. Dangar (Armidale), M. Tully and A. Kirkpatrick (Bourke), W. Alison (Cannonbar), J. M. Atkinson (Carcoar), C. S. Burcher and R. Whitehead (Condobolin), C. Featherstonhaugh (Coonabarabran), H. P. Blake (Coonamble), James Govan (Forbes), George Mair (Hay), R. C. Webb (Hillston), W. E. Abbott (Hunter), A. G. AN UNPROVOKED ASSAULT.

At the Water Police Court yesterday, Frederick Olsen was charged, before Mr. Delohery, S.M., with assaulting, in company with seven others, Reginald Ernest Sisley. Prosecutor described himself as a journalist from London, recently arrived by the Hohenzollern. From his evidence it would appear that he was intending to return to England by the same vessel, and when in Erskine-street on Tuesday last, just before going on board, he was taken to be a "blackleg." Seven or eight men rushed at him and kicked him when he was down. He could not absolutely identify accused as one of those who assaulted him. He had had three glasses of beer, but he was not drunk. He was attended to at the hospital.

Chas. Cavill, professional swimmer, said that he saw about eight men assault the prosecutor, and take his portmanteau and throw it over a fence. He followed accused and gave him in charge. He absolutely identified prisoner as one of the men who struck Sisley.

Mr. Delohery said that Cavill deserved the commendation of the Court for his action.

William Gannon, a seaman, said he was with prosecutor when the assault first took place. They were going to the boat when they were set upon by some men, and then attempted to get a cab. The cabman, however, was intimidated by the crowd, and declined to drive the pair of them. Witness got into the cab, and just as prosecutor was entering accused struck him two or three times in the face. Somebody called out "Blackleg," and witness left the scene.

Accused, on oath, said he was not a unionist, and had not been connected with a union for two years. He had often been taken for a "blackleg" himself. He did not know the prosecutor, and did not see him assaulted.

Prisoner was sentenced to six months' gaol, with hard labour.

Clements; James Burns, Mercantile Rowing Club Hotel, George-street North, to Thomas Hughes; Henry Stibbe, Cricketers' Arms, Fitzroy and Hutchison streets, to John W. Lewis; Mary Richards, Queensland Club Hotel, Castlereagh-street, to Kate J. Champion.

PUBLICATIONS RECEIVED.

The Australasian edition of Scribner's Magazine for June reaches us from the Central Press Agency. The number is a fairly readable one, and the illustrations are artistically finished. Robert Blum's concluding paper of the series "An Artist in Japan" is good, and "The Birds that we See," by Ernest E. Thompson, is a bright article, the charm of which is enhanced by the dainty illustrations. "Life in a Logging Camp," by Arthur Hill, is a vivid picture of the work in the woods. Mr. Sidney Dickinson, who, it will be remembered, visited Sydney, writes about "The Haunt of the Platypus."

We have received from the Sydney Mechanics School of Arts the Supplementary Catalogue, No. 3, which is to 31st March, 1893.

SOUTH AFRICA.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—Perhaps a word of warning may come at an opportune time in order to prevent sure and certain disappointment to many who, on account of the financial distress now prevailing in Australia, contemplate leaving the Sunny South for Africa. The Thermopylæ has just landed some 180 passengers, stated to be artisans and clerks, and it is anticipated that many more will follow. Well, Mr. Editor, if these come in any number they will be doomed to disappointment, for they will find that there is nothing to be got here. Perhaps a few skilled artisans may drop into something, but the demand is very limited, and though we are stated to be in the midst of prosperous times there are numbers of unemployed in Cape Colony and Johannesburg.

Your people will also find that living here is dearer, and that many of the advantages obtained in Australia, and which add their quota in making life happy, are not obtained here. This is a country in which blacks and Dutchmen abound.

I think, therefore, Mr. Editor, that you will be doing a good act in advising your people to pause and consider well before they exchange their Australian homes for South Africa.

I have lived in Australia for a number of years, and it is only through force of circumstances that I am here now. I hope, however, to revisit the scenes of many pleasant ramblings at no distant date.

I am, &c., ROBT. FREEMAN.

ANNUAL SALE OF STUD SHEEP.

THE FOURTH DAY.

There was no abatement in the interest taken in the sales of stud sheep yesterday, and pastoralists and sheep breeders were present in large numbers at the two auctions that took place. In the morning Messrs. Geddes and Co. offered at their store, Kirribilli Point, a number of Southdown, Shropshire, and Lincoln sheep, and the majority were disposed of at satisfactory prices. Owing to the sale at Goldsbrough, Mort, and Co.'s, all the animals penned were not quitted, but those that remain unsold will be offered at Goldsbrough's store at 9 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Maiden, the auctioneer for Messrs. Goldsbrough, Mort, and Co., offered a prime lot of sheep at their large store, Circular Quay, and the sale attracted about the largest attendance that has yet attended any auction of the series. The first lot of animals put up were the famous Sir Thomas flock, bred by Mr. James Gibson, of Belle Vue. The first ram disposed of was the splendid stud animal Paragon, which was bought by the Hon. Henry Moses for 250 guineas. Several other rams in the flock brought good prices, and the average was £30 14s 3d. Mr. G. B. Gibson's Pleasant Banks shed ram Great Scot was secured by Mr. Rutherford for 70 guineas. Mr. A. G. F. Munro purchased Mr. G. A. Jones's Morville bred merino ram Sir Auber for 100 guineas, and Mr. D. White paid 110 guineas for Mr. W. A. Gatenby's Glasslough bred two-year-old ram, sired by Golden Hero the 2nd. On the whole the prices paid for the Tasmanian sheep were highly satisfactory, and every lot offered was disposed of at prices that showed a slight advance on the average prices paid during the previous days.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—In view of the action taken by the Mayor in calling a meeting of the citizens to devise means for repressing the outrages committed by "pushes" of larrikins, I am directed by the general committee of this association to address you on this subject. By many persons increased police protection is put forward as a species of panacea; but it must be remembered that trained police are not easily to be procured, that the increased Government expenditure, necessitated by an increased police force, would not be considered acceptable during the present depression. It takes time to train a policeman, just as it does to drill a soldier or sailor, and the difficulty is already in our midst. The "pushes" are not confined to Miller's Point or Gipps-street; they are to be found all over the city, even on the outskirts of the most fashionable quarters, and the outrages they commit are of daily occurrence. It is no uncommon thing for a "push" to enter a hotel kept by a widow, and if she should refuse free drinks the bar and the contents are wrecked, and though the sufferers from these raids refrain from punishing the larrikins by an appeal to the law, it is only for fear of calling down upon themselves an unrighteous retribution. A suggestion has been made through the medium of the general committee of the United Licensed Victuallers' Association, which if adopted wholly, or even in part, would, it is confidently believed, prove of material assistance in repressing outrages and in affording protection to the public. The suggestion is to connect every hotel in the city and suburbs with the nearest police station by telephone, so that in the event of a disturbance in any neighbourhood, the publican could communicate with the police, who might be despatched without delay to the scene of the riot. Had such connection existed between the Gladstone Hotel and the station, it is not at all improbable that the assault on Pert would never have been committed, or, at all events, it might have prevented the tragic result.

If it is argued that licensed victuallers would be able to use the telephone for their private business, it may at once be replied that few publicans would refuse to pay a reasonable annual sum in return for the advantages, and unless such payment was guaranteed the communication would not be made. Assuredly there could be found in every part of the city, and in every suburb, several publicans who would gladly hail the opportunity thus afforded them of assisting in the extermination of the "pushes." In addition to this, there is a further suggestion worthy of consideration. The various gangs of larrikins acting in concert cannot always be effectively dealt with by the one or two policemen who could be spared from station duty. The association will undertake to provide in each of the city and suburban districts a body of 20 or 30 special constables, who could be called on by the police for assistance. Publicans are nearly always at home in the evening, their hotels are well known, and the presence of a dozen special constables at a riot would be of immense service. In conclusion, I may state that the members of the general committee are of opinion that if these two suggestions were acted upon a great check would be placed upon the "pushes." When a number of larrikins are conscious of the fact that the police can be brought on to the scene within a few minutes, and that the regular force will be supplemented by a score of specials, they will hesitate before bringing down upon themselves the strong arm of the law. I am, &c.,

E. REVILL, Gen. Sec. U.L.V.A.

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

THE TURF.

Owners and trainers of small horses are reminded that at 5 p.m. to-day entries for the following events on the card for the pony and galloway meeting, to be held at Rosehill on Wednesday next, close with the secretary, Mr. G. B. Rowley:—Dundas Handicap of 30 sovs. (14.2), 6 furlongs; Parramatta Handicap of 30 sovs. (14.0), 6 furlongs; Miniature Handicap of 30 sovs. (13.2), 4½ furlongs; Welter Handicap of 30 sovs. (14.1), lowest weight 7st, 5½ furlongs; Ryde Handicap of 30 sovs. (13.3), 5 furlongs; and Galloway Handicap of 50 sovs. (14.2), 1 mile 1 furlong. The conditions are set forth in our business columns.

The monthly meeting of the A.J.C. Committee was held yesterday afternoon, when it was decided to call for tenders for the right of collecting the fees at the entrance gates at all meetings to be held under the management of the club during the ensuing year. It was also decided to call for tenders for the right of displaying advertisements on the new fence running from the old entrance gates towards Randwick. The committee approved of certain alterations and additions to the rules, which will be published after being submitted to the chairman. The sum of £5 was voted to Archibald Jones from the Distressed Jockeys' Fund; and A. Death was voted £10, with the understanding that on leaving the hospital a further application would be favourably dealt with. Trainers' licenses were granted to K. A. Miller and H. Chivers; jockeys' licenses to Thomas Flood, Thomas Connop, John M'Cahon, James Smith, Edward Rose, John Smith, and William Walker; and permission to ride racehorses was given to Alfred Twomey.

The second pony and galloway meeting of the Kensington Racing Club takes place on the 13th instant, and the programme drafted for the occasion demands the attention of owners and trainers to-day, for at 5 p.m. nominations for the undermentioned events must be in the hands of the secretary, Mr. G. B. Rowley:—Flying Handicap of 35 sovs. (14.2), 5½ furlongs; Maroubra Handicap of 35 sovs. (13.3), 4½ furlongs; Bondi Handicap of 35 sovs. (14.1), 5 furlongs; Little Bay Handicap of 30 sovs. (13.2), 4 furlongs; Pony Handicap of 35 sovs. (14.0), 5 furlongs; and Kensington Handicap of 80 sovs., second horse 5 sovs. from the prize (14.2), 1 mile.

Mr. H. J. Hughes has bestowed the name of Antozo on his colt by Gozo (imp.), from Truant.

Trainers and jockeys engaged at the Warwick Farm July meeting on Saturday can obtain tickets of admission to the saddling paddock by applying at the office of the club before 4 p.m. to-day.

The final forfeits for the leading events of the V.R.C. Grand National Steeplechase Meeting were declared yesterday, and the lists of acceptors are set forth in another part of this paper. The malcontents for the Hurdle Race are Redleap, Knight of the Garter, Freedom, Goldreef, Captain Webb, Rushlight, Ivy, Omaha, Leonardo, Polonius, and Pot-8-os; while Redleap, Mikado II., Acrobat, Carlyle, Expectation, Waterloo, Ernie, Lonnen, Bondi, Raven, and Brodie declined for the Steeplechase.

Our Wagga correspondent telegraphs that Defiance, by Glorious-Nea, has been sold at Albury to Mr. J. Mitchell, of Tabletop, for £300. It is understood that the horse goes into Allsop's stable at Randwick.

At the adjourned annual meeting of the members of the Hay Jockey Club held on the 1st instant, the financial statement showed a credit balance of £8 14s 3d. The report of the committee suggested the advisableness of taking some steps to amalgamate the two local race clubs, feeling that a fusion of the members of both would result in establishing a strong club both financially and in working ability and management. The club thus strengthened and reorganised would be enabled to effect a number of improvements that are urgently required for the purpose of making the course comfortable for owners and trainers, and popular with the public, such for instance as the appointment of a resident caretaker, who would see to the planting of trees and the proper supervision of the ground and running track. The meeting was further adjourned until the 28th instant.

The steamship Pateena, which arrived at Melbourne on Tuesday last, had on board the cross-country mare, Ouida, by Leitrim, and the hurdle-racer, Hamilton, by The Assyrian, from Linnet. Ouida is engaged in the V.R.C. Grand National Steeplechase, with an impost of 10st 13lb, and Hamilton appears among the entrants for the Open Hurdle Race, to be run at the same reunion.

The thoroughbred mare, Eurolie, who has been rather a disappointment on the track, will be sent to the stud after the coming race meeting at Hay. Eurolie is by Cheviot, and it is understood that she will be mated with Sunrise.

Advices from Hay state that Messrs. A. and A. Tyson have purchased the gelding Woodlands, by Sunrise, who has been placed under the tuition of the local trainer, L. Holmes.

On the 30th ultimo the steeplechaser, Intrigue, by Wellesley, died in his box at M. Doyle's stables, Elwick, Tasmania. Intrigue, who was the property of Mr. C. Carter, of Hobart, broke down while taking part in the Hurdle Race at the Sorell meeting last March.

The Melbourne Hunt Club have decided to introduce a novelty in connection with their next meeting, to be held at Flemington in October (says the Argus). One of the races will be the Drag Cup, a cross-country event over three miles. The riders of horses weighted at 12st and over will wear pink hunting jackets, and riders of races weighted under 12st will wear black jackets. The horses will be started together, and there will be a prize in each class—the first among the pinks winning a trophy and the first among the blacks winning another. This will be a double that will give backers some trouble in picking. There will be two other hunting events on the programme, the Maiden Hunters' Steeplechase of 2 miles and the Hunt Club Cup of 3 miles, so that the authorities of the club do not apparently intend to give people an opportunity of saying that their programme is not a sportsmanlike one.

From Victoria towards Honolulu had fresh head winds for first three days, thence N.E. trades to Honolulu, which continued on leaving latter port to latitude 10° S.; thence fresh S.E. trades till making Queensland coast. From Moreton Bay to arrival had fine clear weather with strong head wind. The ship leaves on the 18th instant.

THE LADY NAPIER.

The Balmain New Ferry Company's steamer Lady Napier made a trial trip yesterday after her half-yearly overhaul. She proceeded down the harbour, having on board the Government Inspector, Captain Napier, chairman of the company, and some of the directors. The measured mile was run against tide under six minutes, the engines working smoothly and without vibration. The inspectors expressed themselves satisfied with the performance of the engines, and with the general appearance of the boat. She went into commission in the afternoon. Messrs. Begg and Craig looked after the engine work.

A SHIP BURNT AT SEA.

The Greta, ship, from Newcastle lately, reported sighting the hull of a ship 120 miles from Honolulu, the vessel having evidently been destroyed by fire. The Sydney owned barque Sharpshooter, just arrived at Honolulu, reports sighting a similar derelict. Captain Watts, of the Sharpshooter, states that on the 11th June, in 6.30 N., 147.36 W., he observed a wreck completely burned out. Every part of her woodwork was gone but her boom and bowsprit, which were in one piece and still attached to the hull. The bridge and deck house being of iron were standing and the iron decks were intact. Her hull was all unimpaired and drifting about. It was that of an iron ship of 2700 or 2800 tons register. Smoke was coming from the after-hatch. The Sharpshooter sailed all round the wreck at a cable's length, and Captain Watts took minute observations of it. He found the last letters of her name still on the hull. They were "efeld." He took the wreck to be that of a new ship, and the hull was not a bit warped or twisted. The wreck is a danger to navigation as it drifts about. A ship named the Homesfeld was destroyed by fire in December last, and it is probably the same vessel.

WHALING IN THE ANTARCTIC.

POSTED AS MISSING.

LONDON, JULY 5.

The Gowanburn, four-masted barque, 1950 tons, of Greenock, which left Newcastle, N.S.W., on 18th February for San Francisco, and has not since been heard of, has been posted as missing by the committee of Lloyd's.

Concerning the supposed loss of this vessel off the coast of New Zealand, a telegram was lately forwarded from there as follows:—"Some men working on the beach the other side of Oakura, south of New Plymouth, report seeing the bow part of a ship's boat on which was painted in black letters, 'Gowanburn.' On 5th February, the Gowanburn left Newcastle for 'Frisco, and on 22nd a large four-masted vessel was seen by some men off Awakino, north of Mokau. Gale sprang up the day after, and a lot of Gowanburn's wreckage was found on the Awakino beach. From this it is supposed the vessel must have foundered."

H.R.H. THE DUKE OF YORK was married to Princess Victoria Mary of Teck at the Chapel Royal, St. James's, yesterday, amid a scene of great splendour.

Enormous crowds poured into London yesterday to witness the Royal wedding. Fabulous prices were asked for seats along the line of the Royal procession.

YESTERDAY salutes were fired by H.M.S. Mildura and the Austrian war vessel Saida in honour of the Royal marriage. The occasion was also marked by a dinner at Government House, at which his Excellency gave the toast of "H.R. Royal Highness the Duke of York and Princess Mary of Teck."

AN At Home was held by Lady Duff at Government House last night in honour of the Royal wedding. There was a brilliant assemblage.

IN accordance with a recommendation made to the Governor by the Minister for Justice, Richard Sleath, William John Ferguson, Ernest Josiah Polkinghorne, and Robert A. Hewitt, the Broken Hill strike prisoners, were released from custody yesterday. Mr. O'Connor recommended the release of the prisoners as a special act of clemency befitting the occasion of the Royal marriage.

SIR SAUL SAMUEL and Lady Samuel were invited to the garden party given by the Prince and Princess of Wales at Marlborough House to celebrate the marriage of the Duke of York. THE Customs receipts yesterday amounted to £7459.

If, as was said the other night, the Government of Queensland has no intention of carrying on by means of the casting vote of the Speaker, it should seem, at least upon the surface of the case, that the Border Export Duty Bill is not likely to be carried through the Legislature by the same means. There is a rumour that the Premier will consent to remain in office if the bill is passed; but the passing of the bill could hardly be brought about without something like an abandonment of principle by members who voted against it, and an abandonment under the influence of threats. Mr. NELSON, in the first night's debate, said that if some better mode of remedying the existing evil could be suggested, he would be willing to accept it. Such a remedy has been suggested by Mr. EDDY. "If the Queensland authorities were willing to put their rates up to the ordinary rates applicable on the other portions of their railway, New South Wales was willing to raise its rates for the Queensland traffic to the usual scale." As the further re-consideration of the bill stands over until Tuesday, Sir THOMAS M'ILWRAITH will have an opportunity for considering whether he will recover his normal majority in the Assembly by dropping the bill and acting in the manner foreshadowed by Mr. NELSON, or whether he is bound as a matter of honour to endeavour to force this measure through or to resign in the case of failure. It is clear from the division upon the second reading that party considerations have been made by many members subordinate to considerations of local interest, and to what is due to the maintenance of friendly relations between the colonies. If the Government were defeated in the attempt to pass the bill, it would not be a party defeat; but a defeat might be avoided even now by accepting the lesson of the situation. It is of little use to disguise the bill by disavowing the influence of an unfriendly spirit in framing it. The bill is essentially unfriendly. It was easy for the Premier to say that "he was not to be frightened by the bogey that was set up, that there would be retaliatory duties." In the light of the statement by our Chief Commissioner, this bill itself is to be regarded as a measure of retaliation adopted because our Commissioners had in self-defence framed differential rates after the Queensland Commissioners had begun the attack by means of differential rates on their side. We do not know whether, if the bill were passed, our Legislature would take measures of retaliation; but it is in accordance with human nature that the attempt should be made. So much may be gathered from the experience of these colonies. The aggressive action of Victoria in imposing the stock tax and protective duties on grain was the cause that produced a strong desire for retaliation amongst the residents in our border districts and elsewhere, so that members were returned in the interest of retaliation as much as for protection, and a protectionist Ministry was placed in power for purposes of retaliation. The probability is, that if this border export tax were adopted in Queensland the way would be greatly smoothed for the successful revival of the proposal for the collection of tolls on stock crossing the border into this colony. From some of our Northern cattle country comes the complaint that the place is overrun with Queensland stock, and that prices have thereby been forced down below the cost of production. What could a protectionist Government desire more, in the revival of this proposal, than the additional support that would be derived from the feeling of retaliation? Bogey or no bogey, the imposition of a stock tax under the name of a toll would not serve the interests of the Queensland cattle-breeders, especially if under the influence of strong feeling the rate were made almost or quite prohibitory.

It is a question for argument whether an Act of the Queensland Legislature for the special purpose of imposing a duty on exports into New South Wales would not run the risk of disallowance by the Imperial authorities. It is not contended that there is any provision of law expressly prohibiting legislation of such a kind. There is, however, a clear principle embodied in the law, which, reasoning from analogy, should nullify it. In our Constitution Act, the section which authorises the Legislature of the colony to impose and levy Customs duties upon imports contains a proviso to the effect that no new duty shall be imposed upon the importation of any article from any particular country or place which shall not be equally imposed upon the importation of the like article imported from all other countries and places whatsoever. The principle underlying this proviso may be readily discerned. It was intended to guard against the creation of inconvenient complications and disputes by means of differential tariffs—the result of which would be felt, not only by the colonies, but ultimately by the Imperial Government. Probably at the time when the Constitution Act was passed the possibility of export duties being levied by the colonial Legislature was not thought of, and that is the reason why there is not any express provision in relation to export duties. But, arguing from analogy, it may be contended that if there had been any express provision empowering the colonial Legislature to levy export duties, the same proviso would have been attached to it. The imposition of a special export duty to check trade with a particular country or place would be liable to the same objections in kind, if not always in degree, as would arise in connection with special duties on imports from a particular country or place; and if it is necessary to require that duties on imports shall have a general application, for the same reason export duties should be made general, not particular. We could not justly complain if Queensland imposed a duty upon the export of station produce, carried by rail or shipped by sea to all places; but it would be a manifest infraction of the principle relating to imports if an export duty were levied upon station produce sent into New South Wales alone. Would the Imperial authorities, on attention being called to the matter, let an Act pass which placed a duty on wool exported to America, and imposing none upon wool exported to France? If we are not mistaken, this proviso as to the general effect of import duties is contained in the Constitution Acts of all, or nearly all, the colonies. It may be said that the stringency of this provision was relaxed by the Imperial Act of 1873, so far as the relations between the colonies are concerned; but the answer is that the intention of that Act was to permit the framing of reciprocal tariff agreements between two or more colonies, which otherwise would have been disallowed. But there is no element of reciprocity in this Border Export Bill, for its purpose is, and its effect would be, to place a special impediment in the way of trade with New South Wales, whilst leaving trade with all other countries and places as before.

The proceedings of the inquiry into the practice of "sweating" in Victoria furnish a large mass of saddening, but withal instructive, reading. Nearly all the members of the board are out-and-out protectionists, and the point of many of the questions put shows how earnestly they desire that the evidence should not convey an unfavourable impression of the outcome of their favourite theory. But some of the witnesses examined, manufacturers of various kinds, are not easily turned aside, and the distinctness of their evidence must be at times embarrassing. The inquiry has not had for its object to throw light in any way on the fiscal question, which makes the testimony it bears the more striking. It was intended to elicit information as to the extent of the practice known as "sweating" in the various trades, and to discover, if it be possible, any way of preventing it, or at least of alleviating the sufferings of the victims of this outcome of excessive competition. But the state of things which it has revealed makes it impossible to close the eyes to the extent to which a severe protective tariff has contributed to this deplorable state of things. This is seen in two ways more particularly,—the congregation of an undue proportion of factory hands in Victoria, and the shutting up of outlets to external trade. Without the evidence here afforded, it seems strange that any reflecting mind would not have anticipated these results. The raison d'être of a protective tariff in the estimation of its supporters is that it stimulates local industry. That it has at first such a stimulating effect is not doubted. But, like the stimulus of ardent spirits, it has, unhappily, the recoil, and it is in these latter circumstances that Victoria is now engaged in this work of introspection. The fluid condition of the artisan and labour element in these colonies is known. Let any exceptional advantages in the way of employment, real or fancied, be presented in any one part of Australasia, and there is an inflow from every quarter of those who are in want of such employment. Let any exceptional inducements be presented to capitalists in manufacturing or any other industry, and capital will naturally seek to avail itself of the opportunity. Both these features, it is claimed, were presented in Victoria by the imposition of a protective tariff, and the sequence was natural, that the novel inducements should be promptly neutralised by competition. Granting all that protectionists claim as to the stimulating effect of a restrictive or prohibitory tariff, it comes in a natural way that the growth of competition will at least reduce things to the state in which they were before the stimulus, and, from the plethora of competitors, probably to a state much worse. This is what has taken place in Victoria, as appears from evidence brought before the Sweating Commission. One manufacturer who had been in the business for over thirty years said: "The increase of protective duties had brought a large number of people into the trade, which the industry could not absorb. The consequence was that labour in the boot trade had become too plentiful." And that this destructive competition had not been beneficial even to the manufacturer appeared in the fact that this same employer stated in evidence, that were it not that his firm owned £4000 worth of machinery the firm would close the factory and buy what goods it wanted from other manufacturers. But it is to the case of the workers that attention is most turned, and this Commission is unearthing evidence on the social and moral condition of thousands of workers of the most pitiful kind. Even the artificial means resorted to for the purpose of keeping up wages and improving the condition of the workers seem to result in intensifying the evil; for manufacturers feeling themselves harassed by inspection of their factories and the enforcing of restrictions have been largely increasing the proportion of work given out to be done—the field in which the "sweater" reaps his harvest. Sixteen and seventeen hours of work a day are stated in evidence to not be unusual. Girls receive commonly from two shillings to half a crown a week. At this rate they are apprenticed for two or three years, and then commonly discharged to make room for others on similar terms, and it was frankly admitted by one clothing manufacturer that these girls eked out their slender incomes by the wages of shame. Though the wages in factories are maintained at a more reasonable rate, in great part by artificial influences applied, the tendency in face of the fierce competition in both labour and prices is to more and more have work given out to be done in the workers' homes. If, as is claimed by the friends of protection, the growth and development of industrial life in Victoria have been influenced by the protective policy, the state of things revealed by this Sweating Commission is an evidence of its results. It is true that sweating and other evils are to be found in freetrade countries, seeming to arise from the inflexible laws of supply and demand. But that a protective policy has furnished no protection to the workers against them, and that it appears to have intensified them by aggregating an undue proportion of artisans and factory hands in the colony, appear to be strongly borne out by the evidence brought before this Commission.

But a more striking feature in the results than this is the fact that the restrictive policy of the country has been shutting up the outlets of trade. One illustration of this is very pointed. The firm in question used to sell £8000 or £10,000 worth of colonial-made boots in the year to Tasmania; "now they did not," said the witness, "a shilling's worth of that trade." Again, he had lost the trade with Riverina, which had been an excellent one. His travellers, he said in evidence, "were unable to supply imported goods at Sydney rates through our high tariff, and were refused orders for the goods that could be made in Melbourne." In his opinion the only remedy was a gradual return to moderate protection, combined with intercolonial freetrade. "In open competition," he said, "Melbourne men could always more than hold their own with business men in the other colonies, but over-protection has ruined us." Such a statement as this from a manufacturer whose foreign market had been closed against him by his inability to compete on equal terms, must have been ungrateful testimony to the Commission. But it is in accordance with the nature of things. For if the cost of production of boots is increased to the bootmaker by the tariff burthens on his food and clothing, his lasts and awls and wax and leather, it stands to reason that his product will enter the market of foreign competition with all these burthens upon it. The story of the Melbourne boot manufacturer is the story of any protected industry whenever it attempts to step beyond the limits of the protected territory; and the disclosures now being made by the Sweating Commission furnish an object lesson on the effects of fiscal policy which all these colonies may profitably study.

We have no doubt that the general feeling of the community will be heartily in accord with the decision of the Government to release the Broken Hill strikers. The celebrating of any auspicious Royal or national event by an exercise of the prerogative of mercy is, as Mr. O'CONNOR says in his minute, "in accordance with well-established usage throughout Her Majesty's dominions;" and, we may add, in most civilised countries. And the nature of the offences of the men in question rendered them especially fit subjects for the exercise of this mercy. Their offences, serious as they were, did not belong to the common class of crimes. They grew out of temporary conditions of struggle and excitement. Most Governments, however stern they may be in suppressing social disorders which involve breaches of the peace, are usually glad, as soon as possible after order has been restored and the cause of disturbance has passed away, to help towards effacing the memory of the past by the extension of amnesty to the offenders. These convictions and sentences have served their purpose, and will continue to afford an instructive warning to any men placed in similar circumstances and tempted to take the same course. The released men will probably return to Broken Hill, and as they there have opportunity of realising the hopelessness and recklessness of the struggle in which they were the leaders, its ruinous consequences to the cause of labour, and the cruel sufferings it imposed, they may possibly find in the reflections thus occasioned a measure of retribution far more severe than the imprisonment which all are glad to know is now ended.

The Governor's Speech in opening the Parliament of Western Australia is in a buoyant tone that seems almost optimistic by the side of the graver statements of position and prospects for some time made in corresponding circumstances in most of the other colonies. This appears to be not from any extraordinary prosperity which has fallen to the lot of that colony, but from the fact that, being outside the whirl of the speculative excitement which has been in the Eastern colonies, Western Australia has not been called to suffer the reaction, while the attention of the people seems to have been directed mainly to the development of the productive resources of the country. There is a passing reference to the inconvenience caused by the financial difficulties of which we have had such a share. But the talk is chiefly of the excellent returns in pastoral and agricultural interests, the rapid development of the mineral output, of the discoveries of gold in so many separate parts of the colony, which go to strengthen the opinion that "Western Australia will become one of the great gold-producing parts of the world," while coal has been found to exist in large quantities, and has been used with complete success on the railways. These being the grounds on which the colony congratulates itself, it is natural that a prominent place is given to the intention of further encouragement of settlement on the lands. A Homestead Bill is to be introduced, and altogether Western Australia appears in the happy position of turning its attention to the true sources of wealth without having been driven to it by the agony of booming and collapse, as has been too much the experience of the other colonies. But we seem to see the "cloud no bigger than a man's hand" in the reference to the intention of raising a loan. The sum is not a large one in itself—a little under half a million sterling. But when we consider the relative population of the country—some sixty thousand souls—this corresponds with a ten million loan for New South Wales. The floating character of its newly-gathered population, too, by comparison with our more stable settlement and realised wealth, adds to the seriousness of so small a body of revenue-producers undertaking such a liability. Of course, we accept it that a new country can hardly be opened up without borrowing money. But when we see the quiet prosperity of Western Australia, with its half-year's revenue a considerable advance on that of the corresponding period of the previous year, and with its "substantial balance to credit in the Treasury," we feel inclined to regret that such a necessity should exist, if it does exist. Western Australia has not sown its wild oats yet, and if it is wise it will learn lessons from the history of the sister colonies, and instead of straining itself in the haste to be rich, continue to keep its attention fixed as now on the development of its own productive resources.

VICE-REGAL NEWS.—To-day M. La Cascade, ex-Governor of the French colony of Tahiti, accompanied by M. Biard d'Aunet, Consul for France, is expected to call upon his Excellency Sir Robert Duff. Mr. Christian, secretary to the Chief Magistrate of Norfolk Island, will probably call upon Sir Robert on Tuesday, the 18th instant. Arrangements have been made for the Highland Society of New South Wales to wait upon the Governor on 14th July, to present an address, and it is expected that on the same day a deputation from the Children's Hospital at Lewisham will call upon his Excellency.

RETRENCHMENT IN THE CIVIL SERVICE.—With a view to avoiding another deficit, the question of retrenchment in the Civil Service is seriously engaging the attention of Ministers. A Cabinet meeting was held last night, at which the question was further discussed. The Government hopes to save several hundred thousands of pounds. The Premier states that retrenchment will be made in every possible direction. A variety of schemes had been suggested, but no plan had yet been formulated. Ministers in Cabinet were going through the Estimates with the object of seeing what reductions could be made, but no determination as to a definite policy had been arrived at. Upon being asked if there was any truth in the rumour that a further percentage reduction was to be made in the salaries of Civil servants, the Premier stated that the matter had not yet been fully considered. Sir George held, however, that it was competent for the Government to reduce salaries if it liked. It was not because money was voted by Parliament that it must necessarily be paid away. The Ministers could certainly discharge employees, or they could put others on to do certain work at a less cost. This at any rate was the view he took of the matter. Mr. Lyne, upon being spoken to, stated that he had carried out his intention of laying up five dredges and three tugs. He has also given notice to between 60 and 70 employees, as he previously indicated he should do. The Minister for Works hopes that in all he will be able to save £100,000 in his department.

THE CIVIL SERVICE SUPERANNUATION FUND.—In this time of retrenchment a good deal of interest is being taken in the Civil Service superannuation fund. It seems that at the end of June the balance on account of the fund amounted to £475,000. At the end of last year the receipts amounted to £80,000. This sum was derived from the 4 per cent. deducted from Civil servants' salaries and interest on capital invested. The disbursements for the same period were £73,000. It is expected at the end of this year that the disbursements will fully equal the receipts. The fund will then either have to be helped by a grant from Government, or it will have to intrench upon its capital, or the authorities must decline to go on giving pensions. What determination will be arrived at cannot yet be stated. It appears that about 800 persons have retired from the Civil Service since the Act came into force in 1885. Out of that number 350 were compulsory retirements. This does not include those who have retired under the retrenchment proposals of the Government; but numbers of the officers who have lately been discharged are temporary employees, and do not come under the operation of the Act.

THE SUGAR DUTIES.—In connection with the suggestion that the duty on sugar should be extended, Mr. See, the Colonial Treasurer, states that nothing can be done in the matter without an Act of Parliament. He quite agrees, however, with the proposal that the duty should be made more comprehensive. Sugar which is now imported as raw sugar is practically refined white sugar ready for domestic use. In fact the only sugar upon which duty is paid is upon lump sugar. The Government now has the matter under consideration.

DUTY ON BOOKS.—A deputation of booksellers waited upon Mr. Powell, Collector of Customs, yesterday, with regard to the proposal to charge duty on certain publications which come into the colony in book form, but which it is claimed are simply supplements to illustrated newspapers, and are recognised as being such in London. The question in dispute between the booksellers and the Collector is to be referred to the Commissioners of Customs.

THE HOBART EXHIBITION.—The question of the representation of this colony at the Exhibition about to be held at Hobart has engaged the attention of Ministers. It is understood that Victoria will send specimens, but it has been decided, so far as New South Wales is concerned, that it will not be represented at any more intercolonial exhibitions. Sir George Dibbs, upon being spoken to on the matter, stated that representation at these exhibitions was simply throwing money away. The Launceston Exhibition cost a lot of money, and Ministers had determined that this colony should have nothing more to do with shows of that character.

RELEASE OF THE BROKEN HILL STRIKERS.—The Minister for Justice yesterday recommended in an official minute that the Royal marriage day should be marked by the exercise of the prerogative of mercy. He recommended the release of the prisoners who are now under sentence in connection with the Broken Hill riots of last year, as a special act of clemency befitting the occasion. His Excellency the Governor has given his assent, and the immediate release from custody has been ordered of Richard Sleath, William John Ferguson, Ernest Josiah Polkinghorne, and Robert A. Hewitt, the prisoners in question.

THE RAILWAY DISPUTE.—The Railway Commissioners intend forwarding a letter to-day to the Clerk of Awards, in reply to the application for the dispute to be submitted to arbitration. It is understood that the Commissioners will decline to go to arbitration.

TRADE WITH CANADA.—Sir George Dibbs has received a cable message from Mr. Bowell, Acting Premier of Canada, stating that the appointment of a delegation with a view of bringing Canada and Australia into closer trade relations is under consideration by that Government, and inquiring what would be the best time to visit Australia. Sir George Dibbs states that he expects that the Canadian Government will select some of its Ministers to visit Australia. He thinks that the delegation would do good, and certainly the result of the inquiries of the visitors ought to be such as would tend to foster trade between the two countries. He has forwarded a reply to the Acting Premier of Canada that the middle of next month or the beginning of September would be a good time for the visit.

THE CANADIAN MAIL SUBSIDY.—The Government has not yet paid the subsidy which was voted by Parliament in aid of the Vancouver mail service. Sir George Dibbs states that no agreement has been drawn up by Mr. Huddart yet. Besides, the Government wishes to see what Queensland is likely to do in the matter. The subject will shortly engage the attention of the Government.

THE VANCOUVER MAIL SERVICE.—On all sides the Pioneer round trip of the Miowera has given satisfaction. Owners, agents, shippers, and passengers regard the initial trip as a great success. The high rate of speed maintained by the steamer over the 14,000 miles represented in the trip from Sydney to Vancouver and back has called forth unqualified admiration. "All that now remains," said a passenger yesterday, "is for the two countries to go in for an interchange of commerce. That the line is practicable from an English and Canadian mail standpoint is settled. What is wanted is trade to keep the steamers profitably employed." On the subject of the outlook in British Columbia, a gentleman who arrived from Vancouver states that frozen mutton will eventually be an important item. The steamers are to be fitted up for the trade, and cold storage at Victoria and Vancouver provided. Suitable meat cars for the transportation and distribution of the frozen carcases will be supplied by the Canadian Pacific Company, and for mutton and wool there is a future in the great Dominion. Fruit will do well, and for dairy products, especially butter, there is a promising outlook. Captain James Stott, the commander of the Miowera, mentions it as an encouraging fact that the pioneer steamer between Vancouver and China and Japan had as a result of her first voyage two passengers and five tons of cargo. That is but a year or two ago. Now the Empresses, twin-screw steel steamers of 6000 tons each, arrive and sail full of passengers and carrying valuable cargoes. Compared with the starting of that line, the Miowera's first voyage looks well. From Sydney on the up trip she had between 50 and 60 passengers and a few hundred tons of cargo; and on the back journey there were between 30 and 40 passengers and 250 tons of cargo. The Honolulu and Vancouver trade bids fair to be of importance both as to freight and passenger business.

THE CONDEMNED MAN ARCHER.—Sir George Dibbs states that he has received a communication from the condemned man Archer in which the prisoner raises some small points of difference as between the evidence and what he contends are the facts of the case. Archer still insists that he is innocent, and says that he never insulted a woman in his life by word or deed. There is nothing in the letter, the Premier states, which affects the facts brought out at the trial; and there is nothing which can shake the determination which was come to as the result of that trial. The matters mentioned, indeed, did not touch the case. Still he felt it his duty to bring the letter before the Cabinet meeting last night, and he had sent it on to the Inspector-General of Police with the view of having certain inquiries made. The execution of Archer is fixed for next Tuesday.

CITY COUNCIL.—A meeting of the finance committee of the City Council was held yesterday afternoon in the Town Hall. The tender of Mr. Lake Muras for constructing 12 trucks for the Belmore Market was accepted, as was also the tender of Messrs. R. Joiner and Sons for fittings for the chilling rooms for the meat market. The consideration of the street traffic bylaws was the chief matter dealt with. The bylaws were agreed to with some amendments, and were recommended to the council for adoption.

CALLAN PARK ASYLUM.—Yesterday the patients at the Callan Park Asylum were treated to a surprise in the shape of a visit from the Fitz Gerald Brothers' Circus Company. The company to the number of about 60 were met at Princes' Stairs by the assistant superintendent, Mr. Whitling, on the launch of the institution. On arrival a cold collation was partaken of. Mr. Whitling was in the chair, and Mr. T. Hassall, M.L.A., occupied the vice-chair. The former in a few words thanked the Messrs. Fitz Gerald for their kind action. Mr. Hassall spoke on the splendid appearance of the place, and the evident comfort of the unfortunate inmates. He said it was the bounden duty of all who were mentally sound to aid those who suffered man's cruellest affliction, and in this visit the Messrs. Fitz Gerald had evinced generosity and philanthropy, and as natives of the soil he thanked them, and congratulated them on their charitable spirit. He called upon the company to drink the health of the firm, which was done. Mr. Dan Fitz Gerald responded, and proposed the health of Mr. Whitling. The company then adjourned to the theatre, where a programme of parlour items was gone through, to the evident delight of the large audience.

ENTERTAINMENT TO THE MAYOR OF MARRICKVILLE.—Alderman Scouller, who proposes taking a trip to Chicago, was entertained at a social gathering in the local town-hall on Tuesday evening. There was a large attendance, which included several of the aldermen, ex-aldermen, and officers of the council who have officiated during Alderman Scouller's mayoralty. Several ladies, including the Mayoress, were also present. Alderman Moorhouse occupied the chair. The health of the Mayor was enthusiastically drunk.

STUD SHEEP SALES.—The series of sales was continued yesterday by Messrs. Goldsbrough, Mort, and Co., who disposed of several hundred Tasmanian-bred sheep at satisfactory prices. The Hon. Henry Moses paid 250 guineas for a merino ram, bred by Mr. James Gibson, of Bellevue; Mr. D. White secured a two-year-old ram, sired by Golden Horn 11., from Mr. W. A. Gatenby, of Glasslough, Epping, for 110 guineas; and a ram bred by Mr. G. A. Jones, of Morville, commanded 160 guineas, from Mr. A. G. F. Munro. To-day Messrs. Geddes and Co. will conclude their sale at Goldsbrough, Mort, and Co.'s warehouse, at 9 o'clock, and Messrs. Brunker and Wolfe will to-day offer for sale a number of well-bred Tasmanian sheep.

BOARD OF HEALTH.—At the meeting of this board on Wednesday matters were dealt with relating to quarantine at Newcastle. Regulations were adopted for the guidance of Public school teachers with regard to the health of their pupils and the sanitary state of schools. It was reported that diphtheria had disappeared from Cowra, and a communication on the prevalence of scarlet fever at North Sydney was read.

ABORIGINES PROTECTION BOARD.—A meeting of this board was held yesterday in the rooms, Phillip-street. Inspector-General E. Fosbery presided, and there were present the Hon. Richard Hill, M.L.C., and Mr. A. N. Hutchinson. A letter was received from the Principal Under-Secretary, enclosing a copy of a communication from the Premier of Queensland, in response to a request that his Government would take charge of two Queensland blacks now in the Coast Hospital. It was decided to ask the people who brought the girls to Sydney to resume charge or pay for their transmission to Queensland. A letter was received from Rev. Dr. White, of Singleton, calling attention to the destitute condition of the aborigines in the district. The board approved of the purchase of clothing for the whole of the women and children. The matter of setting apart an area of land at La Perouse was considered, and it was decided to recommend the Minister for Lands to grant an area of about 7 acres with a frontage to the beach. On the recommendation of the officer in charge of police at Kiama it was decided to supply clothing to a number of children attending the Public school at Gerringong, and to issue rations temporarily to seven women and ten children at the Crooked River. Mr. C. J. Muston, from Port Stephens, was in attendance. He recommended that the blacks at Nelson's Bay should be encouraged to remove their camp to the Karuah Reserve, about 14 miles distant. This was approved, and the supply of tools was sanctioned. It was stated that Mr. Muston and the Hon. R. H. D. White, M.L.C., would assist the removal and supervise the settlement.

THE MORAYSHIRE SOCIETY.—The first annual festival of the New South Wales Morayshire Society took place last night in the upper ballroom of Quong Tart's establishment, King-street. It passed off successfully. Mr. George Gordon occupied the chair. Apologies for unavoidable absence were read from Mr. John Forsythe (president of committee), Dr. Bennett, and Mr. A. Cumming (vice-presidents), and Mr. W. M'Millan. The first portion of the reunion was devoted to a vocal and instrumental concert in which various members of the society took part, and after an hour had been enjoyably spent in this way the room was cleared, and for the remainder of the evening dancing was kept up with spirit. The programme included the Highland Schottische and Sir Roger de Coverley. Mr. J. M'Millan, a well-known piper and member of the society, gave several Scottish airs; and the Misses Nellie and Maggie Roger, Daisy Moran, Mary Goodridge, and Ada Abbott, who are pupils of Mr. M'Millan, danced the Reel of Tullough and the Highland Fling with much grace and precision. The society now numbers about 100 members. Mr. J. M. Smith is the honorary secretary. Last night Mr. William Grant officiated as master of the ceremonies.

VILLAGE SETTLEMENT.—A meeting of those who have registered with the Village Settlement Company was held last evening in the lecture hall of the School of Arts. There was a large attendance. Mr. F. A. Winter gave a description of an associated settlement scheme upon an elastic plan, which would be applicable to blocks of land of various sizes, in accordance with the nature of the settlement desired. Mr. W. H. Wilks presented a plan for settlement upon a total area of 2560 acres. He proposed that in the centre should be formed 36 farms measuring 10 chains by 20 chains, a 6-acre block being set apart for a village to be governed by a committee, the village to contain the public buildings. The area outside that taken up by the 36 small farms was designed to be one large common farm.

LONDON MISSIONARY SOCIETY. — The annual meeting of the ladies' branch of the London Missionary Society was held yesterday afternoon in the Congregational Schoolhall, Pitt-street. There was a large attendance of ladies. Mrs. J. H. Goodlet presided. Miss Hardie, the secretary of the ladies' branch, read the report, which gave an outline of the work that was being done. A report by Miss Mary Mullens, of the Watchers' Band, was also read. Addresses were delivered by the Revs. T. Lord (of Madagascar), J. King (of Melbourne), and H. M. Dauncey (of Samoa). Mrs. Lord displayed some interesting curios from Madagascar, and she gave an account of the work among the Malagasy women and girls.

BALMAIN LADIES' BENEVOLENT SOCIETY.—A meeting of this society was held yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Broomfield presided. Thirty-nine applications for relief were dealt with, and on the recommendation of the executive assistance was granted in each case. Mr. Hogg reported that the society had about £96 in hand, and this would be increased by the addition of £15 from the recent evening fete, and probably a good sum from the concert held on Wednesday night. Subscriptions were handed in amounting to £2 8s 6d.

THE ETHICS OF THE FATHERS.—A meeting of the Hebrew Literary and Debating Society was held in the Synagogue-chambers last evening. Mr. M. A. Cohen occupied the chair. The Rev. Philipstein read a paper entitled "The Ethics of the Fathers." Discussion followed, during which Messrs. Marks, Levy, and others spoke. A vote of thanks was accorded to the author of the paper.

THE FRESHMEN'S RACE.—The second round of the four-oar race for Freshmen of the Sydney University was rowed yesterday over a course from Clark Island to the boat club shed. The results were:—First heat: G. Purves (stroke), R. Forsyth, D. Barton, H. Weigall (bow), 1; W. Merewether (stroke), J. Mair, J. Waddell, E. Mitchell (bow), 2. Second heat: D. M'Master (stroke), A. W. Black, S. J. Johnson, and J. Montgomery (bow), 1; R. Johnson (stroke), J. Harris, B Bowmaker, C. Hunt (bow), 2. This race was well contested from start to finish, and M'Master won by two lengths.

LECTURE BY MISS MACDONALD.—A course of six University Extension Lectures under the auspices of the Y.M.C.A. was begun last evening in the Y.M.C.A. Hall, Pitt-street, by Miss Macdonald (Principal of the Women's College). The subject of the course is "The Founding and the Founders of the Roman Empire," the special subject for the evening being "The Roman Oligarchy." Miss Macdonald opened by referring to the remarkable similarity between our own times and the Ciceronian period of Roman history. The modernness of it all appealed to us irresistibly. It was an age of transition arising from the enormous increase in the population. There was the same discontent of the poor and the same luxury of the rich; but there was one great difference, for we had now no slavery. The characteristic feature of the period of Roman history embraced in the lecture was the struggle between the democratic party and the aristocratic or republican party, culminating in the victory of the former, the growth of the military power, and the inauguration of Imperialism. The characters of Pompeius, Crassus, Cato, Cicero, and Cæsar, the chief actors in this great drama, were briefly sketched, and the lecture concluded with an account of the conspiracy of Cataline.

CAPITAL AND LABOUR.—A lecture on this subject was delivered by Mr. John Young in the Trafalgar-street school hall, Annandale, last night. Mr. Charles Winton presided. Mr. Young sought to controvert the statements of many of the leaders of labour as to the tyranny of capital, and contended that labour would be in a far worse position without capital than with capital. Co-operation was a very good thing, but it must not be entered into wildly. Labour was wanted to be educated up to it, and the great essential was the choice of a good leader. The enterprising man, whether capitalist or working with borrowed capital, should be encouraged.

LECTURE AT THE RAILWAY INSTITUTE.—The Rev. J. W. Inglis, of Parramatta, lectured on "Garfield—Scholar, Soldier, and Statesman," in the Railway Institute last night. Mr. H. M'Lachlan presided. The rev. lecturer's many anecdotes of the personal life of the great American statesman served to embellish the details of Garfield's life.

ST. CLEMENT'S CHURCH, MARRICKVILLE.—In connection with this church, a tea meeting to celebrate the anniversary was held in the Excelsior Hall on Tuesday evening. The tea was well patronised, and the tables were tastefully adorned with pot-plants and cut flowers. The Rev. C. Bellingham, incumbent of St. Clement's, presided. The public meeting was attended by an unusually large audience. The Primate was publicly welcomed by the Rev. C. Bellingham; and amongst those who occupied seats on the platform were the rural dean (Rev. Chas. Baber, Petersham), Rev. W. Martin, Major James, Alderman J. J. Farr, and others. Apologies were read from Dr. Roseby (pastor of the Congregational Church), Canon Porter, and Dr. Gill. Addresses were delivered by the Primate, Rev. C. Bellingham, Rev. Chas. Baber, Major James, and Alderman Farr.

spoke in favour of the extension of the church or the erection of a new building, and Alderman Farr supplemented his remarks with a plan of a proposed new building. The meeting, which was very orderly throughout, concluded with cheers for the Primate and the rural dean.

PRESENTATION AT THE Y.W.C.A.—A large number of the friends of Miss Davis met on Wednesday evening at the Y.W.C.A., 49 Phillip-street, to bid her farewell. Miss Davis was presented, on the occasion of her resignation, with an address and gold brooch, as a mark of the high esteem in which she was held. Many sincere regrets were expressed at her inability to continue as matron of the association.

TEMPERANCE FESTIVAL.—A Band of Hope Festival in connection with the William-street Wesleyan Church was held last evening. At the preliminary tea meeting about 230 sat down, and no less than 380 walked in the procession which followed. Subsequently an entertainment was given in the school hall. The building was crowded. The Rev. J. A. Nolan occupied the chair. An address was delivered by Mr. H. J. Gilbert. The Band of Hope scholars mustered in force, and contributed to the evening's amusement by rendering numerous songs and recitations. Solos were also sung by Miss Freeland, Miss Hutchinson, and Mr. Gilbert, and additional interest was lent to the proceedings by the presence of the American Banjo Club, which, under Mr. W. J. Stent, played several popular selections. Miss Nolan and Miss Baker accompanied the songs on the piano and organ respectively.

SONS OF TEMPERANCE.—On Monday evening Bro. Brown, P.M.W.P., accompanied by Bros. Palmer, M.W. Treas., Glover, M.W. Sent., Bowmaker, G.W.P., Byron, Grand Scribe, and others paid an official visit to the Hope of Camperdown Division, for the purpose of conducting the amalgamation of that division with the Good Samaritan Division of Newtown. Bro. Brown presided. The books and documents of the Good Samaritan Division were handed in, and each member signed the constitution, the charter being delivered to the Grand Division officers for cancellation. The officers, together with those of the Pride of Camperdown (Daughters), who were in attendance for the purpose, were installed. The half-yearly meeting of the Hearts of Oak Division, Sons of Temperance Benefit Society, was held at the Temperance Hall on Wednesday evening. The following officers were elected for the ensuing six months, and were installed by Mr. J. Crofts, D.G.W.P.:—W.P., Mr. Thomas Walker, M.L.A.; W. Associate, Mr. W. Finlay-Wilson; R.S., Mr. F. J. Chipman; Assistant R.S., Mr. J. Scott, M.A.; F.S., Mr. W. F. Stanton; treasurer, Mr. R. S. Malone; chaplain, Mr. J. W. R. Clarke; conductor, Mr. W. Banks; A.C., Mr. B. Horrocks; I.S., Mr. R. Logeman; O.S., Mr. J. Cook.

SALE OF WORK.—In St. Andrew's Schoolhouse, Pitt-street, a sale of work in aid of St. Andrew's Cathedral mission was opened yesterday afternoon. Although the sale was supplementary to one held in October last, there was an abundance of goods to be disposed of. The stalls were presided over as follows:—Fancy stall, Mrs. Read and the Misses Strafford, Anderson, and Wood; art stall, Mrs. and the Misses Rotter; fancy stall, the Misses Kenway, Wright, and Jeffries; fancy stall, the Misses Riley, Dann, and Rush; and refreshment stall, Mrs. Karby and the Misses Ford (2), French, Shuttleworth, and Clark. Dean Cowper, in declaring the sale open, thanked those who had rendered assistance, and said he thought that all would agree that the mission was worthy of support, considering the moral and religious influence which it exerted. He enumerated the various branches of the work carried on, and mentioned that the mission distributed a good deal of what was called charitable assistance during the year.

DIVORCE PROCEEDINGS.—Out of a list of Chamber matters in Divorce which Mr. Justice Windeyer dealt with yesterday nearly all were under the Amending Act, the wife being the petitioner for dissolution of the marriage in each case on the ground of desertion by the husband for three years and upwards. In one suit the petitioner in her affidavit set out that her husband deserted her immediately after the ceremony of marriage, or, as her counsel put it, "he left her at the church door." The decree nisi was made absolute in the suit Packer v. Packer, and the marriage declared dissolved.

QUARTER SESSIONS.—Ernest Bell, who was tried yesterday at the Quarter Sessions, was found guilty of stealing a watch and chain and £14 5s from E. H. Rasmussen by the confidence trick. He was remanded for sentence. John Holden and Joseph Anderson, on a charge of breaking and entering, and Edward Curtin, on a charge of abduction, were bound over to appear for trial when called upon. Claude H. Tietyens, charged with larceny, was remanded till next sessions.

KICKED BY A HORSE.—A deaf and dumb boy named John M'Carthy, 10 years of age, residing in Illawarra-road, Marrickville, was kicked by a horse yesterday while trying to catch the animal. The lad was rendered unconscious, having suffered a fracture of the skull and concussion of the brain. He was taken to the Prince Alfred Hospital.

FOUND UNCONSCIOUS IN THE STREET.—A man, about 60 years of age, was found in George-street, Haymarket, yesterday afternoon in an unconscious condition. He was placed in a cab and taken to the Sydney Hospital, but expired immediately on being admitted. The man had long, wavy, fair hair, except at the top of the head, which was bald. Deceased was a shoeblack, and his name, it is believed, was Joseph Clarke. In one of his pockets was found a poem in memory of the late Henry E. Searle, the champion sculler, written by "Joseph Clarke, the Yorkshire bootblack."

FOUND DEAD.—An engineer named E. C. Leary, 55 years of age, was found dead yesterday morning in a room at the Grand Central Coffee Palace, Clarence-street. Word was sent to the police, and Sergeant Walker was despatched to make inquiries. Leary had been staying at the Coffee Palace for a few days, and had been apparently in good health. When found Leary was in a kneeling position, with his head against the wall. It is thought that he died in a fit.

THE MILLER'S POINT TRAGEDY.—The taking of evidence in the inquest regarding the death of Thomas Port, who lost his life at Miller's Point, last Sunday week, was concluded yesterday afternoon. Dr. Jamieson was recalled, and deposed to being absolutely certain that the appearance of the deep tissue on the right side of the deceased's neck was not post-mortem discoloration, but was caused by blood which had been extravasated during life consequent upon violence. The condition of the inner surface of the ribs on the left side of the body was also due, he said, to violence. Dr. Bennie was called, and he corroborated Dr. Jamieson's testimony. Dr. Milford, in re-examination, said that he had no reason to alter his previously expressed opinion as to the cause of death. The inquest stands adjourned till Monday next, when the Coroner will sum up.

RAILWAY FATALITY.—Captain Preston, J.P., held a magisterial inquiry at the South Sydney Morgue yesterday into the death of a railway porter, named Frederick Ambrose Thompson, who was killed at Strathfield station on Tuesday. The evidence showed that deceased was 33 years of age, and lately resided at Petersham. He was crossing the line, when the train knocked him down and killed him. The train was driven by a man named Hope, and was in charge of Guard Clapworthy. Captain Preston was satisfied that everything had been done to avert the accident. In recording a finding of accidentally killed, Captain Preston exonerated both the driver and guard from blame.

CASE OF INCENDIARISM.—An adjourned inquest into the circumstances attending a fire that occurred on the 30th ultimo at a furniture shop, No. 94 Cleveland-street, Redfern, was concluded yesterday by Mr. J. E. Bowden, Parramatta District Coroner, at the Britannia Hotel, Cleveland-street. The premises, with the exception of the shop, had not, it was stated in the evidence, been much injured, although nine distinct fires had been discovered. The tenant, Mr. A. J. Lynch, stated that he was in Melbourne at the time of the outbreak, and that he had no idea as to how the fires were caused. A verdict was given to the effect that the house was wilfully set on fire by some person or persons unknown.

THE adjourned special general meeting of the members of the New South Wales Cricket Association will take place at the Oxford Hotel on Monday, the 10th instant to pass and adopt new rules and repeal existing rules, &c.

ATTEMPT TO SCUTTLE A STEAMER.

MELBOURNE, Thursday.

An attempt to scuttle Messrs. Huddart, Parker, and Co.'s steamer Wendouree is reported. The vessel has been lying at the wharf some time with only a watchman on board. On Monday night the watchman heard a noise of rushing water, and going on deck he noticed a number of men running away. On looking about he saw that the rope which moored the steamer to the wharf had been cut through. This alarmed him, and led him to make a further search as to where the sound of rushing water came from. He traced the sound to the engine-room, where he found that one of the doors connected with the circulating pumps had been removed and the valves unscrewed, and through the open valves the water was rushing at a great rate, there being 4ft. of water in the hold at the time. The watchman obtained assistance and had the door closed and the valves rescrewed. The attempted scuttling is attributed to unionists. The Government offer a reward of £50, and Messrs. Huddart, Parker, and Co. offer a similar sum, for the discovery of the guilty persons.

REDUCTION OF WAGES IN THE BAKING TRADE.

MELBOURNE, Thursday.

A largely-attended meeting of union employers in the baking trade was held to-night. A letter was received from the Operative Bakers' Association stating that their society could not entertain the sweeping reduction in wages proposed by the employers. After discussion it was unanimously resolved to adopt the following scale of rates, to take effect on and after 15th July:—1, that the standard rate of wages shall be £2 2s per week; 2, that employees on half time shall receive half pay; 3, that the rate for overtime shall be 1s per hour; 4, that jobbing hands be paid at the rate of 1s per hour. There rates imply a reduction of 15 per cent. all round, foremen included.

THE METROPOLITAN BOARD OF WORKS LOAN.

MELBOURNE, Thursday.

Tenders for the Metropolitan Board of Works 4½ per cent. loan of £500,000 were opened this afternoon, and were found to be of a most disappointing character, as only £72,320 was applied for. The loan is the third that has been offered. The board took over from the Government loan obligations amounting to £2,389,000 which had been expended on waterworks, and is empowered to borrow an additional £5,000,000 to defray the cost of sewerage. The first issue out of the £5,000,000 was made in Melbourne in March, 1892, when 5 per cent. debentures, due 1897, for £500,000 were issued at par; and the second issue, of £1,000,000 in 4 per cent. debentures, due in 1921, was made in London in October, 1892; in addition to which 4 per cent. debentures for £140,000 were disposed of in Melbourne between the two dates. The net proceeds of the million loan floated in London last October amounted to £914,708, and it was expected this would meet all the financial requirements of the board for the following 18 months; but by the successive suspensions of three banks in which the money was deposited the board found that funds to the amount of £917,387 were locked up. After the subsidence of the financial crisis the board decided to try the local market, and on the 13th June it authorised the present issue. The bonds have a currency of 10 years. In order to attract small investors, debentures from £10 and upwards were offered. The minimum was fixed at 99. Nearly all the tenders were for amounts from £100 to £1000. The only tenders of any magnitude were those of the City of Melbourne Bank for £25,000, at the minimum; Sir George Verdon, as agent for the Law Union and the Crown Fire and Life Insurance Company for £20,000 at £99 10s; and F. W. Payne, agent for T. B. Payne, for £10,000 at £99. The next largest tender was for £3000. The total amount tendered for was £72,320, the net proceeds of which amount to £71,774 2s 6d, or an average of £99 4s 10½d. The balance of the debentures will be obtainable at 99 until the 15th instant.

THE COMMERCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL DEPRESSION.

MELBOURNE, Thursday.

The adjourned general meeting at the Chamber of Commerce was held to-day to consider the proposals for relieving the present commercial depression. Mr. W. B. Cowderoy occupied the chair. There was a large attendance. The resolutions laid before the meeting were as follow:—"1. That it is to the products of the soil in one form or another we must look to recover and build up a lasting material prosperity, and that in order to stimulate production and encourage the employment of capital in that direction, also to enable producers to successfully compete in the markets of the world, it is absolutely essential that they should have the burden of taxation lightened. 2. To revive the commerce of Victoria, prevent trade from being permanently alienated from the port and city of Melbourne, and to restore the colony in some measure to its former position, it is needful that the shackles at present hampering trade be lessened or altogether removed. That holding these views this Chamber is further of opinion that no mere adjustment of the finances or retrenchment in expenditure (urgent and necessary as these are) will meet the case; but on the other hand if, joined to these, the Legislature granted promptly a large measure of trade freedom there are forces now repressed by the excessive stringency of fiscal laws, forces of industrial, commercial, and financial energy which, if set free, would very soon put this great colony, with its compact but enormous resources, on the high road to prosperity."

Mr. H. Meeks moved an amendment affirming that the most effective mode practicable of liberating and extending trade would be by sweeping away all intercolonial fiscal barriers.

After discussion the amendment was lost by 11 votes to 7, and the original resolutions were then carried.

THE SHIPPING DIFFICULTY.

MELBOURNE, Thursday.

At a meeting of the Steamship Owners' Association this evening, it was stated that the officials of the Seamen's Union were inducing unionists not to accept the reduced rates, on the grounds that it was probable that they would be able to successfully resist the reduction, and that if they failed to do so they could get back into their old berths. It was deemed that some action was necessary to prevent men being misled by these statements, and the following resolution was adopted:—"That under no consideration will any of the present hands or those now engaging be dismissed except for breach of discipline or incompetency, but that they will be specially and permanently retained during good behaviour. There was also a unanimous expression of opinion that the crews obtained compared very favourably with those employed before the reduction." It was decided to specially recognise the action of Constable Proudfoot in arresting the man who kicked and assaulted the newly-engaged seaman by a donation of £5, and to tender him the thanks of the association for the prompt manner in which he performed his duty.

The decorations in London are very elaborate and artistic. The streets are thronged with people. Fabulous prices are asked for seats on the line of the Royal procession.

There were 2000 guests present at the garden party given yesterday by the Prince and Princess of Wales.

A great State banquet was held at Buckingham Palace in the evening.

The procession started from Buckingham Palace, and passed up Constitution Hill, through Piccadilly and St. James's-street.

The weather is very hot.

DINNER AT GOVERNMENT HOUSE.

The war vessels were decorated with bunting yesterday in honour of the marriage of the Duke of York with the Princess May. Both H.M.S. Mildura and the Austrian war vessel Saida fired salutes. The occasion was also marked by the hoisting of the Royal Standard at Government House. In the evening the gardens of the vice-regal residence were illuminated with electric light. His Excellency the Governor had arranged that the marriage should be celebrated by a dinner, and had caused invitations to be issued to the Chief Justice (Sir Frederick Darley), Captain Hixson, R.N. (commanding local naval forces), Mr. Justice Stephen, Bishop Higgins, the Hon. Dr MacLaurin (Vice-President of the Executive Council), the Premier (Sir George Dibbs), the Hon. W. J. Lyne (Minister for Works), the Hon. F. B. Suttor (Minister for Public Instruction), the Speaker (Sir Joseph Abbott), Mr. Critchett Walker, C.M.G. (Principal Under-Secretary), Major-General Hutton (commanding New South Wales military forces), the Hon. J. Kidd (Postmaster-General), the Inspector-General of Police (Mr. E. Fosbery), the Hon. Sir William Windeyer, the Mayor (Alderman W. P. Manning), the Hon. E. Barton (Attorney-General), the Primate (Dr. Saumarez Smith), Colonel Spalding, C.M.G. (commanding artillery forces), the Chief Commissioner for Railways (Mr. Eddy), the president of the Board of Health (Professor Anderson Stuart), the Hon. Mr. Justice Foster, Captain St. Clair, R.N. (Post-captain), the Hon. John See (Colonial Treasurer), the Moderator of the Presbyterian Church, Rev P. F. Mackenzie, the Crown Solicitor (Mr. E. A. Smith), the Hon. H. O'Connor (Minister for Justice), Captain Sachs (Austrian war vessel), Prince of Lichtenstein, Mr. Galton (Private Secretary), Captain Leigh, A.D.C., Captain Baird, A.D.C., the Hon. Mr. Justice Manning, the Hon. Mr. Justice Owen, Mr. G. H. Reid, M.L.A., Sir Henry Parkes, G.C.M.G., M.L.A.

At the gathering the usual loyal toasts were drunk. The health of "H.R.H. the Duke of York and his Bride" was also drunk. The Governor, in submitting this, said: "Gentlemen,—I am going to ask you to depart from the usual custom of Government House, and to drink more than one loyal toast; and I hope gentlemen, I shall have your concurrence in asking you to depart from that usual salutary custom, because to-day marks an epoch in British history. To-day his Royal Highness the Duke of York is to be married to the Princess Mary of Teck. I therefore on this auspicious occasion ask you to join me in drinking a bumper to their health, and in expressing an earnest hope that the union, which we believe to be one of pure affection, may be productive of happiness to their Royal Highnesses, and of enduring benefit to our common country. As loyal subjects, I am sure we all feel that the stability and permanence of our monarchical institutions are of immeasurable importance. The marriage, which takes place to-day, offers the best guarantee for the continuance of the direct succession to the Throne, and on that account we all attach to it immense importance. I feel sure that the people of the ancient and loyal colony of New South Wales desire to take this opportunity of joining their countrymen in every portion of the State in giving renewed expression to their affection and devotion to the Crown. It is impressed with this feeling that I ask you, gentlemen, to join me in drinking to the welfare of the Royal couple, who in all human probability will one day—we trust a far distant one—will be called upon to preside over the destinies of this mighty Empire."

AT HOME AT GOVERNMENT HOUSE.

A brilliant assemblage graced Lady Duff's first reception held at Government House last night in honour of the royal wedding. Naval and military men appeared in uniform, and Sir George Dibbs was attired in his Windsor uniform. The guests arrived at 9 o'clock. They were announced by Captain Baird, and received at the entrance to the drawing-room by Lady Duff. The large company filled both the ballroom and the drawing-room, and at half-past 9 there were over 300 present. The band of the Permanent Artillery was stationed in the verandah, and played selections during the evening. Supper was served soon after 10 o'clock, his Excellency escorting Lady Darley, and Sir Frederick Darley Lady Duff. The evening passed quickly and pleasantly in conversation. The rooms were prettily decorated with flowers and pot plants. Among those present were Miss Duff, Miss Heather Duff, Sir Frederick and Lady Darley, Miss Darley, Mrs. and Miss Bowden-Smith, Sir George and Lady Dibbs, Miss Dibbs, Major-General and Mrs. Hutton, the Primate and Miss Snowdon Smith, Sir Joseph and Lady Abbott, Bishop Higgins, Colonel and Mrs. Roberts, Sir William and Lady Windeyer, the Misses Windeyer, Sir William and Lady Manning, the Mayor and Mayoress of Sydney (Mr and Mrs. W. RELEASE OF THE BROKEN HILL STRIKERS.

THE EXERCISE OF THE PREROGATIVE OF MERCY.

The Broken Hill strikers were released from custody yesterday in accordance with a minute prepared by the Minister for Justice, Mr. R. E. O'Connor. The minute, which was dated yesterday, ran as follows:—

"I would suggest to your Excellency that the Royal marriage to-day to be celebrated in England should, in accordance with well-established usage throughout her Majesty's dominions, be marked in this colony by a signal exercise of the prerogative of mercy. The release of the prisoners now under sentence in connection with the Broken Hill riots of last year would be a special act of clemency well befitting the occasion. I therefore recommend the immediate discharge from custody of Richard Sleath, William John Ferguson, Ernest Josiah Polkinghorne, and Robert A. Hewitt."

This minute was submitted to his Excellency the Governor at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and approved of by him. At 3 o'clock instructions were sent by telegram to the governors of the various gaols to release the prisoners. It seems that Sleath was in the Goulburn Gaol, Ferguson was in Bathurst Gaol, Polkinghorne was in Maitland Gaol, and Hewitt was in Parramatta Gaol. The prisoners, it will be remembered, were tried at Deniliquin before Judge Backhouse, Mr. Coffey being Crown Prosecutor, on Friday, the 29th October, 1892. Sleath and Ferguson were sentenced to two years' hard labour each; and Polkinghorne and Hewitt to 18 months' hard labour each. These sentences were afterwards commuted, Sleath's and Ferguson's being reduced to 16 months each, and Polkinghorne's and Hewitt's to 12 months each. The reduction was made consequent upon an application to Lord Jersey by a deputation of ladies.

Mr. O'Connor, upon being seen by a representative of the Herald last night, stated that the release was purely an act of clemency on the part of the Government. They exercised the prerogative of mercy on a special occasion. No pressure had been brought to bear upon Ministers in the matter. Indeed, he thought of the whole thing himself. It was not made a Cabinet matter, as he acted solely in his capacity of Minister of Justice. Of course he told Sir George Dibbs and other Ministers what he intended to do, and the Premier and his colleagues quite agreed with him. No application had been made by labour members; no petitions had been presented; all agitation for the discharge of the prisoners had ceased. Had any agitation been got up, the probability was that the men would not have been discharged. They were released in accordance with the custom of England from time immemorial. Taking into consideration the previous commutation of the sentences, the men would not have had very much longer to serve. He thought these prisoners were peculiarly fitted for the exercise of the prerogative of mercy—that was taking into consideration their previous character, their conduct in gaol, and the whole of the circumstances surrounding their conviction. The good purpose intended by their imprisonment had now been served. Look, for instance, how orderly the present strike was being conducted. The only event that had weight with him and which might have prevented him releasing the men just now was because a strike was on. The one great thing which he desired to emphasise, however, was that there had been no suggestion whatever to the Government from the outside, and that the act was purely and simply one of grace on the part of the Government.

Sir George Dibbs, upon being seen at the close of the Cabinet meeting last night by a representative of the Herald, also alluded to the matter. There had, he said, been no agitation in any shape or form. It was simply a gracious act in consideration of the Royal event of the day.

THE WEATHER.

A HEAVY GALE ON THE COAST.

The weather indications yesterday were threatening. A heavy overcast sky prevailed almost all day, and it was pretty well apparent that very bad weather was about. For several days westerly and S.W. gales have raged in Bass Straits, but this coast had pretty well escaped up to Wednesday night, when the storm worked north from Green Cape, and by last night it had reached the force of a strong gale, with a high following sea. To the southward of Sydney at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Green Cape, Twofold Bay, Crookhaven, Bateman's Bay, Moruya, Ulladulla, Wollongong, and Bellambi reported the sea very rough. To the northward, at Newcastle, Port Stephens, Port Macquarie, and Manning Heads the sea was heavy and increasing, and a special telegram last night from Newcastle states that a big sea was running on the bar there. At South Head last night a sea like a mountain was running. With the wind between west and south, partly off the land, it would be supposed that only a moderate rise would occur on this coast, and the reports of the steamers which arrived yesterday are generally to the effect that the swell is from the eastward. The steamer Oonah, which arrived last night from Hobart, encountered terrific squalls from the south-east up as far as Gabo Island, and from there the wind was S.W. The force of the wind at Sydney was not very great. Last night the anemometer at the Observatory gave it at 20 miles per hour. Some of the gusts during the day were higher, but generally there was nothing remarkable. Mr. Russell says that very stormy weather between New Zealand and this coast has probably occurred, though the telegrams from New Zealand received at the Observatory are never very complete. Coastal shipping telegraphic reports to hand show that several vessels had to seek shelter from the storm at various bays on the coast.

THE CANADIAN MAIL SERVICE.

The arrival of the pioneer ship of the new Canadian steamship service appears to have been regarded as an event of great importance by the people of Vancouver. In fact, they made far more fuss about the inauguration of this new line than we did in Australia. The Colonist, a daily paper published at Victoria, British Columbia, gives a lengthy account of the welcome which was accorded to the Miowera on her arrival, and we learn that Mr. F. W. Ward, who travelled with the steamer as the representative of the owners, had an important interview with the members of the Victoria Board of Trade. A special meeting of the board was held to greet Mr. Ward, who made a speech on behalf of the new trade route now being opened up. "In Australia," he pointed out, "the feeling was that this enterprise must be put at once upon a commercial basis, and justify its existence by the promotion of a large interchange of commodities between the two countries. With such a foundation they could later afford to indulge in expressions of pride at the sentimental value of the road. The communication he felt sure, from what he had seen here, had come to stay. He felt that commerce could be built up between the two countries just as a city was built up, brick by brick and house by house. It was practically impossible to obtain in Australia any statistical information as to present or possible trade between Canada and Australia, but the trade with the United States afforded a fair means of reckoning. The Australian trade, direct and traceable, with the States was larger than with any other foreign power, and this in spite of the hostile influence of the M'Kinley tariff. That trade amounted to, roughly speaking, about 20,000,000dol. a year, and was well worth cutting into. The greater part of that trade was done by New South Wales and New Zealand, which for 20 years had regularly subsidised the steamers. Here was to be found cause and effect; and he thought that Canada, being directly connected with Queensland and New South Wales, would be able to build up considerable business. In trade matters the United States were, in his opinion, just a bit selfish—they had allowed the subsidy for the present service to be paid entirely by the two Australian colonies for the past 20 or 25 years, and the subsidy had at times gone as high as 450,000dol. The direct return trade from Australia had always been considerably below the export to the States from that country, who thus had to pay gold to the States." Further than this, Mr. Ward warmly advocated a system of reciprocity between the Australian colonies and Canada, and indicated a number of articles, such as fresh fish and fruit, in which a trade between the colonies might be built up. The arrival of the steamer at Vancouver was celebrated by a banquet, where much friendly feeling was displayed, and writing of the affair, the Vancouver Daily World confidently asserts that "neither the Miowera nor Warrimoo need ever leave this harbour without a cargo."

THE POLITICAL SITUATION.

BRISBANE, Thursday.

Yesterday's division as well as its result was quite unexpected, as several members intended to speak on the bill, but the Speaker put the question rather hurriedly, just before tea hour, when some members were absent. There is a pretty widely expressed hope, especially amongst members of the Assembly, that the Governor will decline to accept the Premier's resignation, and that some compromise may be reached whereby the Government, without sacrificing their honour or dignity, will be able to retain office.

BRISBANE, Thursday.

The crew of the Yaralla still refused to work to-day, though they did not desert the ship, and were arrested shortly after 11 on a charge of refusing to obey the commands of the captain. The men include four A.B.'s, three firemen, a donkeyman, and a lamptrimmer. They went quietly to the watchhouse, and no interference of any sort was attempted. They were immediately bailed out. A new crew was shipped, and the steamer left for Bundaberg to-day.

The Railway Commissioners here challenge some of Mr. Eddy's statements in the interview as telegraphed yesterday with regard to the statement that the rates charged for the Queensland trade were almost equal to the average rate for the whole colony. They point out that the differential rates between Bourke and Sydney vary from 1·30d to 1·60d. per ton per mile, whereas the ordinary rates average upwards of 3d. Then with reference to the rates for merchandise, they deny that there is no undue competition, and state it was years ago that the New South Wales Commissioners put the rates up £1 a ton. The merchandise rates from Sydney to Bourke are only about half what they are on the other portions of the New South Wales railways.

Mr. Wragge has issued the following special ocean forecast:—A barometric disturbance is gradually approaching the meridian of Cape Leuwin, and will duly make easting across the Southern Ocean within the next week. The present position of its centre is calculated at lat. 27° south, long. 103° east. The depression will more or less affect the coast-line of the Southern colonies and adjacent waters before the expiration of the time named, and shipping bound west towards the Indian Ocean will meet with strong winds from between N.E., N.W., and W., afterwards shifting to S.W. and S., with rising sea and rain-squalls. A further disturbance exists about midway between Cape Howe and Wellington, and will probably produce S.W. to S. gales between the meridians of 150° and 180° S., from the parallel of 33°, thus embracing New Zealand. Rough seas are certain to be experienced S., S.S.E., and E. from Gabo during the next three days.

THE LABOUR MEMBERS.

ADELAIDE, Thursday.

The new labour members of the House of Assembly are to be appointed justices of the peace.

THE SEAMEN'S STRIKE.

ADELAIDE, Thursday.

This morning, at Port Adelaide, there were few outward manifestations of any labour trouble. Work at what few vessels there are in port proceeded in the usual manner, excepting the Aramac, which remained at Maclaren's Wharf in an inactive condition. Shortly after 10 o'clock the wharf at which the Aramac was berthed was barricaded off with wire rope, and the following notice was placed on the wharf:—"No admission except on business." Two or three police were told off to keep order, but the men who congregated outside the barrier did nothing more than discuss the situation. It was expected among the unionists that the steamer Innamincka, for Melbourne, would arrive with a non-unionist crew, but when the vessel ranged alongside the wharf at 9 o'clock it was found, amid general satisfaction, that she still had her old crew. A rumour that had gained ground among the men in port to the effect that the Innamincka was bringing a non-union crew for the coasting steamer Investigator was contradicted by the crew of the Innamincka. The stevedores as soon as the steamer was berthed commenced discharging the cargo. The crew so far have received no intimation to leave the vessel, and unless they do it is their intention to stick to the ship. Their articles have nearly expired, another trip to Port Adelaide and back again to Melbourne finishing their agreement. A new crew for the Aramac arrived from Melbourne during the morning. A considerable crowd collected, and at 10.30 the train was seen proceeding down Lipson-street from the railway station. Hoots and groans were given as a greeting to the crew, and as the men alighted from the train the crowd closed on them, but the police cleared a passage, and in a few steps the men were on the wharf and aboard the steamer. The men were engaged in Melbourne yesterday, and came to Adelaide by express, after which they were transferred to a special train and brought on to Port Adelaide. Arrangements were made to sign on board the vessel, so that there will be no necessity for them to travel through the streets. There are 26 men, which is the full complement, and the same number that came out of the Aramac on Wednesday. In the case of two coasting steamers belonging to the Yorke's Peninsula Shipping Company, it has been found necessary to make a reduction in wages. Although it was not desired to enforce a reduction of £2, it has been decided to compromise by making a reduction of £1 all round. The men considered the offer a fair one, and decided to accept it. It is understood that the reduction holds good till the end of October, when the company, if it sees its way, will revert to the former rates. The strike has not affected the coastal shipping.

The case against the men of the Aramac who came out of the vessel on Wednesday was resumed at the Port Adelaide Police Court this morning, before Mr. Johnstone, S.M. A great deal of interest was taken in the action, and there was a large attendance of men at the courthouse. Mr. J. H. Symon, Q.C., prosecuted; and Mr. E. P. Nesbit defended. The proceedings were opened by F. Conway, A. Gustavson, R. Cantrell, A. Lunn, W. L. Ramsay, Eohlia Flemming, William Daniels, Robert Simpson, Robert A. Kell, and George Allardyce being charged with unlawfully and wilfully disobeying certain lawful commands of Lewis Tindal, master of the Aramac. The men, with the exception of Lunn, were sentenced to 14 days' imprisonment, with 7s costs against each man. The case of Lunn, who is a night watchman, was dismissed on the ground that he was not supposed to be working on Wednesday. The case against the firemen was dismissed without costs on the ground that the articles were not read to the men when they signed. Each man swore that the articles had not been read.

At the conclusion of the Aramac cases the men who were convicted were conducted to Adelaide, cheered by a small crowd which followed. The men who were dismissed were taken charge of by the crowd and heartily congratulated. The new crew shipped in the morning for the Aramac soon fell into their duties. Steam was raised by 4 o'clock and and the vessel left the wharf. Owing to the Court proceedings some of the officers could not proceed in the steamer down the river, but the vessel anchored at the Semaphore and waited for them. At 10 o'clock the vessel left for Melbourne. She has a fair passenger list and a moderate quantity of cargo for Melbourne, Sydney, and Queensland ports. It is stated on good authority that the members of the Working Men's Association and other unionists at Port Adelaide do not intend to have anything to do with the present shipping dispute. A number of their members are out of work, and the societies have quite enough to do to pay weekly contributions to those members without taking upon themselves responsibilities which strike-pay entails. It is also stated that some of the societies have been badly hit owing to the bank suspensions, and have large sums locked up.

ADELAIDE, Thursday.

The Railway Commissioners announce that the following by-law will come into operation:—A rebate of 4s per ton will be allowed on wool carted from Queensland or New South Wales to Leigh's Creek for conveyance by railway to any South Australian port. VICTORIA.

MELBOURNE, Thursday.

In the Assembly this afternoon Sir Graham Berry presented a petition from women of Brunswick, complaining of their distressed condition, lacking food and furniture. The Treasurer intimated that he hoped to be in a position to deliver the budget speech on the 18th instant. When the sessional orders were under consideration Mr. Dunne made an attempt to obtain 2 o'clock sittings of Parliament, but was defeated by 55 to 10. Mr. Patterson obtained permission to submit a motion empowering the Government to at once set about the construction of railways from Dimboola to Jeparit, and Boort to Quambatook, in the mallee country. He submitted the motion in view of the unprecedented circumstances of the distress. The lines, which would cost about £120,000 or £130,000, would open up valuable country and absorb the surplus labour. He expressed the earnest hope that the House would permit the Government to take authority to construct the lines. Sir Graham Berry supported the proposal; but urged the Government to undertake railway construction and other works nearer the metropolis. Mr. Shiels sympathised with the desire of the Government to provide work, but complained strongly of the proposals being sprung on the House, no opportunity being afforded members of informing themselves as to whether the lines were justified.

Mr. Gillies generally supported the Government proposal, but hoped that only preliminary work would be done until both Houses had sanctioned the construction of the lines. Mr. G. D. Turner thought the Government were doing a good thing in the wrong way, and urged that the Boort to Quambatook line should be at once pushed on, but that the proposal for the line from Dimboola to Jeparit should be postponed till the question of rival routes was settled. He moved an amendment to that effect. Sir Graham Berry supported the amendment; but Mr. Patterson, in a vigorous speech, pointed out that the question was one of urgency, and held that the lines were justified on their merits. The House must either accept or reject the motion, and he intimated as leader of the Government his intention to conduct the business in his own way. The debate was continued at great length, the proceedings being very wearisome and uninteresting. The amendment was negatived, and the motion carried by 52 votes to 10. The House adjourned at 11.45 p.m.

THE VOTE ON THE RAILWAY BORDER TAX BILL.

BRISBANE, Thursday.

A meeting of the Cabinet was held this morning to consider the political situation arising out of yesterday's division. When the Assembly met to-day, Sir Thomas M'Ilwraith said: "Consequent on the vote given on the Railway Border Tax Bill last night I move the adjournment of the House. I am not in a position to make any further Ministerial statement." Mr. Dickson said he thought it was incumbent upon someone to express the regret, which he was sure was in the public mind, that the circumstances of last night should have justified the Chief Secretary, making the announcement he had done. The Government had not got the support which they might reasonably have expected. On all broader questions they had the confidence of members of the House and the country. Future legislation was full of weal or woe for the colony, and it was absolutely necessary that a strong Government should be in power. The motion on the Railway Bill was really a surprise motion. Many members expected to speak and were disappointed. The feeling of members was that the Government should not relinquish power unnecessarily or through any impulse. He trusted that when the House resumed on Tuesday the country would be relieved of the apprehension of any action that might be taken by the Government.

Mr. Archer said he believed the present Government were the only Government which could hold office as the House was at present constituted. He thought that under the present circumstances of the colony the Government should put on one side something that seemed to hurt their dignity, and not allow personal considerations to enter into the matter. They must know that on all general questions they possessed a two-thirds majority. The present was not the time to be shifting the Government, and he believed the Government would do their best for the country if they remained in power.

Mr. Murray expressed his confidence in the present Government, and trusted that they would regard the matter as a side issue, and carry on as heretofore.

Mr. Hoolan, the labour leader, thought the Government should resign.

Mr. Agnew said he had voted against the measure, but not against the Government. It would be a national calamity if they resigned.

Mr. Morehead said he would give the Government a general support, but he absolutely declined to give up his individual judgment to any man or party.

After several other members had spoken, the Chief Secretary said he would place the present situation before the Governor on Saturday, and be guided by his judgment, in which he had the fullest faith.

The House adjourned at 4.15 p.m. till Tuesday next.

SOUTH AUSTRALIA.

ADELAIDE, Thursday.

In the House of Assembly this afternoon the debate on the Government policy was resumed. The ex-Commissioner of Crown Lands made a speech charging the present Treasurer with paralysing the Crown Lands Office when previously in charge of it. Mr. Playford vigorously replied, the result being a scene of recrimination. The Treasurer stated that during the last few days he had been made acquainted with the fact that the deficit was £10,000 more than was recently estimated, the total amount being £207,990. The debate was closed, and the motion for the adoption of the Address in Reply was carried at a late hour.

AMUSEMENTS.

A successful concert was given at Parraween Church, Neutral Bay, on Wednesday last. Part songs, recitations, and instrumental and vocal music forms the evening's programme, to which Mrs. Maclean, Mrs. Hodson, Miss Dobson, Miss Wallace, Miss Cromach, Miss Maguire, Miss Saville, Miss Eastwood, Miss Smallwood, Miss Lowick, Messrs. Perry, Holdsworth, and others contributed.

The Marrickville Lyric Society gave its second concert (under the patronage of the Governor and Lady Duff) in the Excelsior Hall on Wednesday evening. The attendance was large, and the programme well selected. The violin solos of Master C. A. Gress were warmly applauded, and the young player should become favourably known hereafter. Ten per cent. of the proceeds of the concert are to be devoted to the alleviation of distress in the district.

An amateur dramatic entertainment took place at the Victoria Barracks Theatre on Wednesday evening, before a good audience, including Major-General and Mrs. Hutton, Colonel and Mrs. Spalding, Colonel and Mrs. Airey, Colonel and Mrs. M'Kenzie, Captain Savage, and others. The performance, which was under the management of Mr. George Clibborn, opened with a comedietta, "Breaking the Ice," in which Mrs. Cave Browne Cave and Mrs. Rolleston appeared with credit. In H. J. Byron's three-act comedy, "War to the Knife," Mrs. Hotham took the part of Mrs. Delacour, Captain St. Clair that of John Blunt (the Bristol manufacturer), and Mrs. Cave Browne Cave, the Misses N. and H. Robertson, and Messrs. Rolleston, Clibborn, Harvey, and Robertson completed the cast. The Permanent Artillery Band, under the acting bandmaster, Sergeant M'Carthy, played selections.

A social gathering of parishioners was held in St. Paul's schoolroom, Burwood, on Tuesday evening in connection with the eleventh anniversary of the completion of St. Paul's Church. There was a large attendance. Light refreshments were served, and a good musical programme was carried out.

In our business columns will be found a notification that the performance at Fitz Gerald Brothers' Circus to-night will be under the patronage of the New Zealand footballers, who will be escorted by the reception and entertainment committees of the New South Wales Rugby Union and a large contingent of New Zealanders resident in Sydney and the local players.

THE SEAMEN'S STRIKE.

THREE STEAMERS DETAINED.

MORE CREWS ARRESTED.

There were signs of the utmost activity on the different wharfs yesterday, and everybody connected with shipping was busily engaged in coping with the many difficulties which presented themselves owing to the usual routine of business being interfered with by the maritime strike. The most competent of the non-unionists have already been shipped, and the steamship owners therefore experienced a great deal more difficulty in finding trustworthy men to fill the positions vacated by those who in accordance with the instructions of the union came ashore.

Three steamers—the Rosedale and the Electra (North Coast Company) and the Ouraka (Adelaide Steamship Company)—were to have left port yesterday but were detained. Five vessels arrived with union crews, but they have not so far come ashore, and in five other instances the union crews deliberately refused to obey the mandate of the union. Two vessels left with non-union crews obtained in other ports, and two other steamers obtained a sufficient number of non-union men to enable them to proceed to sea.

The crews of the Rosedale and the Electra (North Coast Company) after working until 2 o'clock on the Market Wharf, were instructed by the union to cease work, and during the evening they were given in charge for having disobeyed the lawful commands of the captain. The crew of the Electra numbered 10, and that of the Rosedale nine. In the case of the latter vessel two unionists refused to obey the strike committee, and consequently only the remaining seven were arrested. The 17 arrests of yesterday make a total of 107 men, representing the crews of nine vessels who have been prosecuted for breaking their agreements.

Considerable interest was again taken yesterday in the hearing of the cases against the unionists at the Water Police Court; and not only was the court crowded with spectators, but a large assemblage gathered during the whole day outside the court and police station.

At the weekly meeting of the Trades and Labour Council, held last evening, the situation was discussed, and the appeal to affiliated unions, which was published in these columns yesterday, was read to the meeting and endorsed. Several delegates intimated that the bodies they represented would consider the appeal as soon as meetings were held.

Strike pay has not so far been issued to the men, but members of the vigilance committee and other officials are receiving some small remuneration for their services.

The strike committee sat all day yesterday and until a late hour in the evening. Reports of the pickets were received and considered, and instructions were given as to what action should be taken.

The Seamen's Union is issuing a daily strike budget, in which they give their side of the dispute, and urge the men to do their best.

The body of the unionists still assume an attitude of confidence, although there is a section which recognises that defeat is inevitable.

SCENE ON THE MARKET WHARF.

The principal event of the day was the proceedings at the North Coast Company's Market Wharf, at the foot of Market-street. The Rosedale and the Electra, belonging to this company, arrived during the morning, and for some reason the union men intimated to the captains of the vessels that they were not going to leave. They therefore commenced the work of discharging on the same wharf as the non-union crew of the Wyrallah was working. This appeared, however, to affect neither section to any extent, but the unionists were subjected to considerable annoyance from the union pickets. The union men upon agreeing to continue their work appointed one of their number as a delegate to explain the circumstances of the case to the union, and his place was by arrangement temporarily filled by another union man.

Everything went on as usual during the morning, but about 2 o'clock the delegate returned and communicated to his fellows that the decision of the strike committee was that they were to cease work. The order was at once obeyed, except by two members of the crew of the Rosedale.

During the afternoon at least 500 persons, mostly strikers and other unionists, assembled in the vicinity, and the excitement over apparently nothing became intense. The cheers with which the crews were received when they ceased work attracted a large number of the general public, and for a time a large crowd gathered in Sussex and Market streets and along the bridge.

The excitement was at its height at about 6 o'clock when a detachment of water police arrived to take the men into custody. The men made not the slightest resistance and walked quietly between two rows of police. They were followed, as in the other cases, to the station by a large procession of unionists, who cheered them.

Upon arrival at the station their names were recorded in the charge book, and persons were in waiting to bail the men out. They will appear before the Court this morning.

THE POSITION OF STEAMERS.

The Eurimbla (A.U.S.N. Co.) arrived during the afternoon; but so far her crew, which is a union one, has not left.

The Kallatina (North Coast Company) arrived at 9.15 last evening. The sailors are all union men.

The Wyrallah (North Coast Company), whose crew is under arrest, is still lying in the stream; but it is understood that non-union men have been engaged.

The Tomki (North Coast Company) arrived early this morning from the Richmond.

The Oonah (Union Company) arrived at 9.30 last night from Hobart, manned with unionists, who are still on board.

The Brinawarr (Huddart, Parker, and Company) left for Shoalhaven last night. The union sailors refused to strike, and the firemen, who came out in obedience to the union were replaced with non-unionists.

The Coomonderry (Huddart, Parker, and Company) arrived late last evening from Shoalhaven with a union crew, which has so far not deserted.

The Allowrie (Illawarra Company) arrived yesterday morning from Bega, Eden, and Southern ports. She is timed to leave this morning for Bateman's Bay, and no difficulty is anticipated. She has a union crew on board who refuse to strike.

The Emu (Adelaide Company), the first vessel to ship a non-union crew in this port, arrived from Geelong yesterday morning. It is reported that the men have given every satisfaction, and they will be retained.

The Adelaide (Adelaide Steamship Company) arrived with her union crew from Melbourne yesterday morning. The men refuse to leave the vessel.

The South Australian (Adelaide Company) is in the same position as the lastnamed vessel. She has a union crew, who intend to ignore the mandate of the union, and have notified their intention of staying on the vessel. She arrived from Brisbane and Northern ports yesterday afternoon, and is timed to leave again on Saturday.

The Franklin (Adelaide Company) occupied a similar position to the other vessels belonging to this company. The steamer arrived yesterday morning from Northern ports, and her crew, which is essentially a union one, refuse to be dictated to by the strike committee.

The Ouraka (Adelaide Steamship Company) is the only vessel belonging to this company which has experienced any difficulty. Her union crew on Tuesday morning gave 24 hours' notice, and came ashore at noon on Wednesday. She was timed to leave for Newcastle last evening, but was detained.

The Maitland (Newcastle Company) left sharp to time last night for Newcastle with a full crew. Her union hands, at the expiration of the 24 hours' notice, came ashore yesterday, but the company had a crew of non-unionists in waiting.

The Lubra (Adelaide Company) arrived from Geelong last evening. Her crew was a union one, engaged for the run only. She is advertised to leave for Queensland ports to-day.

The Rosedale (North Coast Company) arrived from Port Macquarie yesterday morning, but, as stated above, her crew, most of whom have been in the employ of the company for 10 or 11 years, left her. She was delayed until to-night.

The Elingamite (Huddart-Parker, and Co.) arrived with her non-union crew, obtained in Melbourne, last evening, and is not affected by the strike.

The Illawarra (Illawarra Company) arrived from South last night, and her union crew has refused to leave.

The Tambo (Huddart, Parker, and Co.) is timed to leave on Saturday for Tasmania. Her crew has left, but a non-union crew will be engaged in time.

The Nemesis (Huddart, Parker, and Co.) arrived from Newcastle at noon yesterday. The union crew has refused to leave until their agreement has expired.

POLICE COURT PROCEEDINGS.

In the Water Police Charge Division yesterday, before Mr. Delohery, S.M., the cases in connection with the maritime strike were continued. The men from the City of Grafton (belonging to the N.C. S.S. Company) were first placed in the dock, and James Colvin's case was taken first.

Mr. Joseph Lowe appeared for the company to prosecute, and Mr. J. C. M'Lachlan defended the accused.

Captain Authon, master of the vessel, said that the accused had signed the articles after having them read over to him. Witness was present when accused signed. He produced the articles of the ship, and stated that accused had refused duty.

Mr. Slater, chief officer, also gave evidence as to the refusal of the crew to work.

Mr. Delohery sentenced Colvin to 14 days, with hard labour.

The following men from the same steamer were similarly dealt with:—John Oystilla, George Allison, William Sims, Lawrence Olleson, and Legwell Allison.

The case against Patrick Furlong was withdrawn, as accused was only a substitute, and the articles were not read over to him.

John Cook was also discharged for the same reason.

The rest of the crew were proceeded against individually.

Donald Morrison was then called.

The captain and first mate gave similar evidence as in the previous cases.

For the defence, Alexander M'Lean, one of the firemen, was called. He said that when the captain read over the articles and asked them whether they would go to work they made no answer, neither refusing nor consenting.

By the Bench: The captain called out the names of the men one by one. He was waiting on board for orders the whole of the morning. He was certain that he got no orders to go back to work.

William Barlow, another fireman from the same vessel, was also called for the defence. On the morning of the 4th the mate called them all aft, and the captain asked them why they would not "turn to." One of the men told the captain that a general strike had been declared, and the men could not continue work. The captain then called the mate, and told him to read the articles. After that the captain told them that they had broken their agreements by refusing to work, and the spokesman for them said that they would abide by the consequences. They then dispersed and went for'ard. He would swear that the entry in the log-book, as to the refusal of the men to work, was a false one. The captain did not give the men orders individually.

Further evidence of a similar nature was called for the defence.

Mr. Delohery, after argument, said he found the case proved, and sentenced accused to 14 days' gaol with hard labour.

Alexander M'Lean, and William Barlow, were similarly dealt with.

On Harravel being called Mr. Lowe read a letter purporting to be from prisoner's father, in which it was stated that prisoner was under age, and should be sent back to the boat. Harravel said he wrote the letter and his father signed it. (Laughter.)

Mr. M'Lachlan held that the prisoner was not competent to contract.

With the consent of the prosecutor accused was discharged.

Thomas Mair, on being called, said that the articles were not read over to him when he signed on 24th April.

The accused was discharged.

At 5.30 the rest of the cases were adjourned to to-day.

THE NEW ZEALAND FOOTBALL TEAM AT NEWCASTLE.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENTS.)

MATCH AGAINST THE COMBINED NORTHERN DISTRICT.

NEWCASTLE, Thursday.

At noon to-day the New Zealand football team were introduced by the president of the Northern branch of the Rugby Football Union, to Alderman A. F. Moore, Mayor of Newcastle, at the council-chambers. The Mayor welcomed them cordially to Newcastle, and a very pleasant hour was spent. The visitors were evidently pleased with the reception they met with on all sides.

Shortly after 3 o'clock a match was commenced at the Newcastle Cricket Ground. There was a very large attendance, and general interest was taken in the contest. It was, however, anticipated that the Northerners would not be able to cope with the Maorilanders, and the result seemed to justify the prognostications. New Zealand sent D'Arcy, full back; Jervis, Bayley (captain), and Goode, half-backs; Butland and Shannon, quarter-backs; and Cockcroft, Lambie, Stuart, Murray, Pringle, M'Intosh, Gardner, M'Kenzie, and Speight, forwards, to carry the black and silver; while the Northern District Combined team comprised R. Norman, full back; White, Cummins, and H. Miller, half-backs; C. Miller and O. Scott, quarter-backs; and M'Lean, Appleby, Malone Tizzard, Owen, Jem Wood (captain), T. Miller, Watson, and Edwards, forwards. The weather was beautifully fine, and everything favoured the players. The New Zealand captain won the toss and defended the southern goal, thereby having an advantage of a light southerly wind that blew down the ground. In the play the forwards at once got to work, and the combined action of the visitors soon had the district in trouble, and in less than three minutes a beautiful exhibition of short passing from Bayley to Stuart then to Shannon gave the last player an opening, and he dashed over in splendid style. Jervis quickly shot the ball over the bar and registered 5 to nil. Sent out and into open play a succession of wilful obstructions and off-side play by New Zealand gave the district a number of free kicks, but the excellent back play of their opponents nullified the advantage. The local forwards were acquitting themselves grandly, the efforts of M'Lean, Malone, J. Wood, and Owen being specially prominent, the former eliciting round after round of applause; while for the black and silver Speight, Butland, Stuart, and Lambie showed their sterling qualities, the firstnamed particularly distinguishing himself. Give and take play with alternate advantages raised the spirits of the district men, and some of the forward rushes were really excellent, and their failure to score was certainly attributable to the dexterity of the opposing quarters in snapping the ball from off their very toes and checking a rush. New Zealand now came on with desperate sallies at the local line, and from a wild pass by Bayley, Jervis picked up and dropped a goal from the field out of the pack, thus recording 9 to nil. No change in scores had taken place when half-time was piped.

On resuming hostilities a rush brought the ball into the New Zealand 25, and a penalty kick for some further infringement saw Appleby pot a grand goal for the district, the scores being 9 to 3. New Zealand then bestirred themselves. Their short, clean passing completely outclassed their foemen, and Bayley crossed the line. The kick succeeding showed 14 to 3. The Maorilanders from this out played desperately, and though it was conceded that the district forwards more than held their own against them, Lambie, Speight, and Shannon successfully carried the leather over the line, and a goal being kicked from one of the tries drew the figures up to 25 to 3. When Goode, for New Zealand, was flying round the wing prior to passing to Shannon, before the latter went in, Jem Wood received a severe injury to the head, which rendered him unconscious for some time. A few minutes later time was called, and left the visitors victorious by 25 points to 3. Mr. J. Miller, as umpire, did not give the satisfaction desired, many of his decisions being questioned. The team left for the metropolis to-night by the 7.30 train.

THE V.R.C. GRAND NATIONAL MEETING.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

MELBOURNE, Thursday.

A rumour was freely circulated to-day that the hurdle racer Merrigal was amiss. The horse's name, however, appears among the list of acceptors. Stamboul was unwell on Wednesday night, but was all right again to-day.

THE NORTH SHORE VEHICULAR TRAFFIC.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—I did not intend when writing to your paper inviting any newspaper controversy with Mr. H. E. Russell upon the question of the North Shore vehicular traffic, I simply desired to invite public attention to a question of very great importance, and gave all the facts at my disposal, some of which Mr. Russell disputed. 1. That it is not a fact that foot passengers travelling by the horse-ferry boats are charged double fares after 8 p.m. I accept his correction, but desire to inform him that when the directors informed me in precise language at a deputation on the subject that I was absolutely wrong on that point I was absolutely correct, and that up to that date the exorbitant charge of two pence was made. This I can prove to Mr. Russell, if he will accept proof, by reference to persons who actually paid that amount.

2. Mr. Russell says it is not a fact that the company's traffic amounts to 500,000 horses and vehicles annually, or anything approaching these figures. It is true that I was also informed by Mr. Russell and his co-directors at the deputation referred to that I was absolutely wrong in this assertion; but on the day in question I spent an hour in counting the number of vehicles travelling to and fro, and found the average fully 10 per trip. The ferry service runs up to 8 p.m. 120 trips per day, so that at that average per day my estimate of 500,000 is not far out. Besides, I am supported by the evidence given before the Royal Commission on city and suburban railways and the North Shore bridge connection in 1890, in which it was asserted that the estimated number of vehicles and horsemen carried by the horse ferry every year was 422,300.

With the balance-sheet of the North Shore Ferry Company I have nothing to do, because it is one of those documents not too extensively circulated among the general public: but as a public man, enjoying the confidence of a very large section of the community at North Sydney and St. Leonards, it is my duty to obtain for them all the advantages of cheap and rapid transit; and although the board of which Mr. Russell is a member may deem my efforts worthy of their contempt, I trust that I shall not be deterred from using all the facts at my disposal to obtain for the people the advantages they are entitled to, and I further trust that my so-called misstatements, when examined in the light of truth, will bear public scrutiny. I have no desire to discuss the matter further with Mr. Russell. His company enjoys a monopoly of the traffic referred to, and is likely to do so for some time to come. Any step in the direction of the liberal concessions suggested by me will show that the directors of that company have no desire to take advantage of their security from opposition.

I am, &c.,
EDWARD M. CLARK.

July 4.

The monthly meeting of the committee of the Parramatta Benevolent Society was held on Wednesday evening. The president, Archdeacon Gunther, presided. Several applicants were recommended for relief. The secretary reported that since the last meeting he had given 85 beds and 57 meals to travellers. Thirteen families had also been supplied with rations. A good supply of soup was distributed daily, as many as 20 per day availing themselves of it. The Primate visited the Travellers' Rest on Saturday last, and expressed himself as well satisfied with the manner in which it was conducted.

The weight of a million sovereigns, newly minted, is 10 tons 14cwt. 15lb. A million pounds' worth of fresh-coined silver pieces of British money weighs over 151 tons 10cwt. These enormous weights and value may be represented by a few pounds of banknotes. It takes 512 [illegible] to weigh a pound.

THE MARITIME STRIKE.

NEWCASTLE AND HUNTER RIVER S. S. COMPANY.

COMING OUT ON STRIKE.

NEWCASTLE, Thursday.

The fact of the seamen and firemen of the Newcastle and Hunter River S. S. Company having given notice of coming out on strike has created great surprise and regret here, as the company have not reduced wages, nor yet given notice of doing so. The men say here that they have no fault to find with the company, but simply come out to oppose the reduction in wages by other companies, and because ship owners will not meet the men in conference. No unpleasantness is likely to occur here. With regard to the union wharf-labourers, &c., they do not show any disposition to interfere in the dispute, and it is most probable that if they were called out by the Seamen's Union they would decline to go.

ABUNDANCE OF LABOUR IN THE NORTH.

CORAKI, Thursday.

Regret is expressed here at the maritime strike. At the present time it is thought that the abundant labour offering on the rivers will prevent any inconvenience to coastal shipping.

THE COAL TRADE OF NEWCASTLE.

Mr. James Curley, miners' general secretary, has received official notice from Mr. Binney, secretary to the Coal Proprietors' Association, that after the 31st instant the selling price of coal will be reduced to 9s per ton, and that, in accordance with the general agreement, the hewing rate will be reduced from 3s 10d to 3s 6d per ton. The matter will be laid before the various lodges in the usual way as quickly as possible.

WORK AT THE NORTHERN COLLIERIES.

NEWCASTLE, Thursday.

The work at the collieries has been slack for the fortnight ending last Friday, for which period miners receive pay to-morrow. The Greta Anvil Creek was idle, the Waratah Colliery is still closed owing to the collapse which took place in the main shaft in February last. The days of working at each mine were as follows:—Burwood Colliery, 11 days; Stockton, 10; Seaham, 10; Lambton, 8¼; Hetton, 8; Wickham and Bullock Island, 7¾; Newcastle A pit, 6¼; Newcastle B pit, 8¼; Cardiff, 6¼; Sea Pit, 6; Borehole, 5; Dudley, 4¾; Duckenfield tunnel, 4¼; Brown's tunnel, 4¼; Co-operative, 4¼; Ferndale, 4¼; New Lambton, 3¾; Wallsend, 3; West Wallsend, 2¼; Northern, 1¼ days.

BROKEN HILL, Thursday.

The news of the release of the strike prisoners was announced here to-night, but failed to arouse any enthusiasm.

Shortly after 5 o'clock this evening a telegram was received here from Tarrawingee stating that a man had been injured in the quarries, and desiring that medical assistance should be sent. A special engine and carriage, having on board Dr. Belgrave, was promptly despatched, and on arrival the doctor found that a man named John Callaghan had had his shoulder fractured and had sustained other injuries. Callaghan was engaged filling trucks with flux, and failed to get clear of one that was being shunted on to a loop-line, the result being that he was severely crushed. The doctor attended to his injuries, and the unfortunate man was conveyed to Broken Hill, reaching here about 11, and was admitted to the hospital. His injuries are of a rather serious nature.

CORAKI, Thursday.

The heaviest frost known for some years occurred yesterday morning. The ground was white up to 8 o'clock, and the sugar-cane was badly damaged in some localities.

At a public meeting which was held here, it was resolved to invite Mr. Lyne, the Minister for Works, Mr. See, Colonial Treasurer, and Mr. M'Farlane, M.L.A., to visit Coraki during this month.

COONAMBLE, Wednesday.

The land revenue for the past six months collected at the Coonamble office amounted to £17,401 6s 11d.

CROOKWELL, Thursday.

The local land board to-day concluded a three days' sitting here, 82 cases being dealt with.

Last month the Kialla butter factory dealt with 3160 gallons of milk, and paid suppliers 5d per gallon.

The weather is still unsettled and extremely cold, and the wheat crops are at a standstill. The crops in the low-lying ground have been much retarded by heavy and continuous rain. All kinds of stock are suffering from the cold weather.

GERMANTON, Wednesday.

A public meeting was held at the School of Arts in favour of a mining on private property bill. Mr. Robert W. Wheatland was chairman. Messrs. Wm. Purtell, J.P., R. Douglas, Robinson, and others addressed the meeting in favour of a resolution passed in favour of such bill, but with the rights of the owners protected. The feeling was against any repudiation of owners' interest. A petition is to be prepared to be sent to Messrs. Lyne and Hayes for presentation to the Minister for Mines.

GOULBURN, Wednesday.

Last night a letter-carrier named Thomas Thompson was found in Bourke-street in an insensible state. His letters were scattered about him. He was conveyed to the hospital, where he died at 2 o'clock this morning. Dr. Handcock Burkitt found that Thompson had been suffering from Bright's disease. The cause of death was the rupture of a blood-vessel in the brain. Deceased was 33 years old. He leaves a widow and one child. He belonged to the Masonic body and the Oddfellows' order. A magisterial inquiry was held this afternoon, and a verdict was returned of death from cerebral apoplexy.

GRENFELL, Thursday.

On Monday the most severe frost ever remembered here occurred. The ground was covered as if by snow, and thick ice all day. Fine weather is wanted for farming operations. Wheat-sowing is much retarded by the continued wet.

GOULBURN, Thursday.

Mr. T. Rose, M.L.A., gave a lecture in the Town Hall last evening, under the auspices of the Kendall Debating Club, on "National Banks." He said that the present system of banking was wrong. He proposed to amalgamate the Post Office Savings Bank and the Barrack-street Savings Bank, the amalgamated bank to be the only one with power to issue notes. The deposits should be fixed for 5, 10, and 15 years, with interest at 3, 3½, and 4 per cent. respectively. The notes should be issued on a bullion basis, and the Government should have no direct control over the bank, but should have power to take £1,000,000 per year towards the liquidation of outside debts, by which means the national debt could be got rid of. Government would not be allowed to use one penny for public works. The scheme would entail no extra expense, but the machinery at present existing should be put into working order. He also proposed that the Treasury should be run with the bank, and so reduce the cost of the Civil service and remove the Treasury from political control. He believed in a bullion basis, because it would save the cost of minting sovereigns, and restrict the use of gold as an internal currency. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded at the close.

KEMPSEY, Thursday.

The supply of milk to the Fredericton Dairy Factory for the last month, in consequence of the flood, showed a falling off of 4000 gallons as compared with May. The price paid to suppliers was fourpence.

To-day the small boat Neutral Bay, which runs up and down the river with passengers, was compelled to land her passengers some distance below Kempsey in a small boat which conveyed them to the bank, and a 'bus had to be engaged to take them to Kempsey. This is in consequence of a sandbank which has formed across the river, making it impossible for even the smallest boats to cross. If the Government does not at once take measures to have matters seen to, the trade of the district will be completely ruined. The dredge which is here is not at work, having to undergo repairs; and what with the river navigation stopped and roads that cannot be travelled, things look exceedingly gloomy. It is understood that the Government are sending an officer to report on the state of the river.

Mr. Wallace's seat in the borough council having been declared vacant, Messrs. W. T. Dangar and W. J. Trim were yesterday nominated for the vacancy.

Evidence was tendered to prove that the license expired on the 30th ultimo. The house had since been kept open as usual, although no liquor had been retailed. The police magistrate held that at the time of the prosecution the defendant was not the possessor of a license at all. A fine of £2 with costs 10s 10d was imposed.

Should she happen to do so her backer will lose a considerable sum.

MUNICIPAL COUNCILS.

ST. PETERS.

This council met on Monday night. There were present—Aldermen Judd (Mayor), E. J. Harber, Edwards, Hayes, Stuart, Parkyn, and Geering. Alderman Edwards, as chairman of the works committee, reported that the committee had visited the locality where Mr. Mainer required arrangements to be made for carrying off the water. The committee recommended that if Mr. Mainer would find the pipes the council would place them across the footpath. The council clerk laid upon the table the following statement of ward balances:—Brompton Ward: General account, dr. £93 8s 3d; gas account, cr. £10 6s 3d. Cook's River Ward: General account, cr. £227 4s 11d; gas account, dr. £78 12s 6d. St. Peters Ward: Cr. £95 4s 10d; gas account, dr. £56 2s 8d. The Water and Sewerage Board intimated that the following streets would be opened for the laying of water-mains:—From Cook's River-road along Albert-street for 190 yards, and Stark-street from Cook's River-road to South-street. The Australian Gaslight Company wrote that the request for the lowering of the main in George-street would receive attention. Mr. Carruthers, M.L.A., wrote that, in accordance with the council's request, he had written to the Secretary for Lands for a grant of £500 for St. Peters Park. The Mayor drew the council's attention to the fact that a number of men were being discharged from the Shea's Creek canal works, and he suggested that a deputation, consisting of the Mayors of the municipal councils interested, should wait upon the Premier, and urge that, instead of men being dismissed, they should be put on, say, half time. Several aldermen supported the suggestion, and a motion in accordance therewith was carried. Accounts were passed for payment amounting to £92 15s 8d. The following motions were carried:—By Alderman Stuart: "That 230 yards of kerbing and guttering be laid in Unwin Bridge-road, from Mr. Gannon's cottage property to existing gully, at a probable cost of £60." "That 70 tons of blue metal be laid in Railway-road, at a probable cost of £40." "That 47 yards of kerbing and guttering be laid in the lane off Railway-road, behind Murray and Stuart's property, at a probable cost of £9." By Alderman E. J. Harber: "That Alderman A. Harber be granted three months' leave of absence from 1st June, 1893, if required." By Alderman Edwards: "That a call of the council be granted, and that the motion by Alderman A. Harber, of 11th April, 1892, to the effect that £20 be expended in repairing the footpath from Mr. Squire's property to the Town Hall, be rescinded." "That the footpath from Mr. Squire's property, Cook's River-road, St. Peters Ward, to Cowper-street, be taken up where required and relaid with asphalt, at a probable cost of £133 7s 8d." "That the footpath on the north side of Victoria-street, St. Peters Ward, from Cook's River-road to Mr. Penfold's property, be asphalted, at a probable cost of £12 16s 8d. The Mayor submitted the following minute relative to the payment of outstanding rates:—"With regard to the adoption of the minute I submitted for your consideration at the last meeting of this council relative to the decision of the Full Court, Borough of Ashfield v. Ramsay, also to the necessary appointment of a bailiff, which matter was left in my hands in order to give effect to the unpleasant duty of delivering the circular letter which had your approval to every occupier of a house in this municipality other than those whose rates are paid, giving seven days' notice previously to the issue of distress warrants, in accordance with section 176 of the Municipalities Act of 1867, I may mention that I have given due consideration to the whole matter, and found it absolutely imperative to proceed without delay in the issue of circular letters to each occupier; and if the rates are not forthcoming at the expiration of the time mentioned therein the extreme course of issuing distress warrants must necessarily be set in motion. I have appointed Mr. Peter Flannagan, an absolute stranger, who has an excellent character, and, under instructions, he has procured two guarantors, who hold themselves liable severally for the due fulfilment of duties in connection therewith to the amount of £25 each. The remuneration he will receive will be 7s per day. You will observe that he will only be paid when acting on behalf of the council. I may mention that the extreme course of issuing the warrant of distress will only be adopted if circumstances admit of no other." An amendment was rejected by four votes to two, and the minute was similarly carried.

AUBURN.

A meeting of the above council was held on Monday. There were present—The Mayor (Alderman J. D. Ritchie), Aldermen Ewart, Taylor, Blacket, Wright, Myers, Hellbut, Roper, and Dyer. The secretary to the Municipal Association forwarded the following legal opinion on points raised by the council:—"The council is not bound to form the street the full width. It may cut down the carriageway and have the footpaths in embankment or otherwise, to be dealt with at some future time, but if it does so it must leave the road and footpath in such a state as not to cause accidents. The council would be bound to form the approaches to adjacent properties. If an accident occurred through the embankment being left in such a state as to be dangerous to the public, then the council would be liable to such damages as a judge or jury would consider sufficient in the case of any person suffering injury." The letter was referred to the works committee. A. L. Bates wrote pointing out the necessity for the establishment of a branch of the Government Labour Bureau in Central Cumberland. The Mayor moved,—"That the letter be received, and that the Colonial Secretary be asked if he can see his way to establish a local agency of the Government Labour Bureau." The motion was lost, and an amendment to simply receive the letter was carried. The Board of Water Supply and Sewerage drew attention to the necessity for maintaining the roadway and present surroundings to the surface works of the board, such as hydrants and valve boxes, in order to prevent accidents to the travelling public. Mr. F. Farnell, M.L.A., wrote stating that all cases of distress in the borough would receive assistance at the Parramatta Asylum on producing a note from the Mayor. The Revs. E. A. Colvin and P. O'Reilly forwarded lists of families in need of assistance. Alderman Ewart moved,—"That, to relieve the distress now existing in the borough, this council take steps to ascertain how many families, if any, are desirous of availing themselves of the provisions of the new Labour Settlement Act, with a view to initiating a public movement to raise funds, and otherwise assist them in doing so." The motion was lost.

LIVERPOOL.

A meeting of the above was held on 30th June. Present—The Mayor (Alderman C. A. Scrivener), Aldermen Cloke, Donald, Retallick, Murphy, Hockenberg, A. Scrivener, Chapman, and Mullett. Correspondence: The Department of Lands wrote in reference to Rose-street, asking for satisfactory proof of the dedication of the street to the public. Mr. Garrard, M.L.A., wrote, intimating that the dam across George's River would cost £2000 to repair, which sum, however, he declined to recommend; but the Minister has approved of an expenditure of £200 now available to fill the holes. The Department of Lands wrote stating that the matter of the sale of the Liverpool Common and the erection of two culverts had been referred to the metropolitan district surveyor. Mr. M'Credie, M.L.A., wrote stating that he would use his best endeavours to secure the grant for Moore Park. The Mayor stated that he had been informed by the Government Surveyor that the road through Mr. Knox's property to the creek on one side of Bernera-road, and to the Camden-road on the other, was now marked, and that he had also marked the road between Messrs. Wilson's and Robertson's properties to the Camden-road. He proposed that the council empower him, in conjunction with the works committee, to make such arrangements with Mr. Knox as they may consider satisfactory. The Mayor's proposal was adopted. Alderman Murphy drew attention to the continual expense he was under in carrying out the office of chairman of the works committee. It was resolved,—"That the chairman of works committee be recouped railway fares and buggy hire necessary for carrying out his duties." Alderman Murphy laid upon the table a plan showing 1500 acres of Government land at Deadman's Creek, which he thought adapted for a noxious trades site. Alderman Donald moved, and Alderman Chapman seconded,—"That a letter be forwarded to the Under-Secretary requesting him to visit the proposed noxious trades site." Carried.

WAVERLEY.

The Waverley Council met on the 4th instant. Present—the Mayor (Alderman W. T. Ball) and Aldermen Simpson, Hewlett, Cannon, Waterhouse, Keys, Edwards, Carroll, and King. The Board of Water Supply and Sewerage wrote in reference to the maintenance of the roadways and pavements, and reference was made to the case of Moore v. the Lambeth Waterworks Company, decided in the English Court of Appeal in 1886. The council clerk quoted from the Law Times a case that appeared to reverse this decision. It was agreed to refer the matter to the Municipal Association. Mr. W. S. Preddey wrote, calling attention to the dangerous state of the council's quarry. The manager of the Waverley Cemetery reported that the income for the month had been £237 7s 6d. The Mayor promised to see to the establishment of telephonic communication with the city, both for the council-chambers and the cemetery.

PARRAMATTA.

A meeting of the Parramatta Borough Council was held in the Council-chambers on Monday evening. There were present—the Mayor (Alderman C. J. Byrnes), Aldermen Taylor, Moxham, Watters, Campbell, Dixon, and Thorpe. Alderman Thorpe said he rose to redeem a promise he gave at the council a fortnight ago, that he would take the earliest opportunity of drawing attention to what he considered his disfranchisement, and in order to conserve his privileges he intended to conclude with a motion of adjournment. The Mayor asked Alderman Thorpe to move the adjournment, when Alderman Thorpe said,—"I move that the council do now adjourn, and in doing so—." The Mayor: "Will anyone second the resolution?" Alderman Moxham seconded the resolution, when the Mayor put it, and it was lost. Alderman Thorpe then claimed his right to say what he had to say, and he would not be silenced. He said he would not be dictated to. The Mayor then left the chair, stating that he would not allow himself or his position to be insulted. Alderman Dixon also left the table while Alderman Thorpe continued speaking, stating that he had been gagged in a most outrageous manner. There being no quorum, the meeting broke up.

PETERSHAM.

A meeting was held on 4th July. Present: The Mayor (Alderman L. E. Russell-Jones), and Aldermen Hughes, Moseley, Salier, Elphinstone, Tuxs, Crothers, Loudon, Wiseman, Webster, and Rofe. Mr. G. H. Peterson complained of drainage from properties in Denison-road flowing on to his property. The works committee was directed to report upon the matter, as also upon an application from Mr. T. Rose for the laying of sewer pipes in West-street. A circular letter from the Dibbs Testimonial Committee, asking for subscriptions, was received. The Railway Department wrote that the Commissioners had approved of the formation of an asphalted approach to the Stanmore station, and had given instructions for the work. Messrs. W. Pritchard and Son wrote, in reference to the last subdivision of the Annandale Estate, that if the council would accept the amended plan, by which a lane extending from Margaret-street to the Parramatta-road was proposed to be closed, and would purchase sufficient land in Cannon-street, the trustees would bear one-fourth of the cost. It was decided to reply that the council was quite prepared to discuss the whole matter with the trustees, and for this purpose the Mayor and Alderman Rofe, Hughes, Wiseman, Webster, and Loudon were appointed to act on behalf of the council. The Newtown council clerk wrote stating that the joint works committees of Petersham and Newtown had opened tenders for the ballasting and metalling of Liberty-street, and recommended that that of Messrs. Cheney and Carson for £429 should be accepted. R. Goswell applied for and was granted a transfer of the dairy license formerly held by D. Kirkpatrick for premises in Hudson-street. Alderman Webster presented a petition from residents on the West Kingston Estate praying the council to lay a strip of tar-paving on the northern side of Railway-avenue from Derby-street to Lincoln-street. The petition was received. The finance committee reported that it was not an opportune time to raise a further loan, and that they saw no necessity for financing the expenditure on the Johnston Estate by that means. The consideration of the report was deferred. The Town Hall committee reported against the exclusive use of the new lodgeroom being granted to any particular lodge, and recommended that the council suitably furnish the room with a view to letting it to any lodge desiring to engage it. The works committee reported in favour of the acceptance of Cheney and Carson's tender for Liberty-street, the taking over of street and lanes in Hughes's subdivision at Lewisham on payment of a subsidy of £30. The report was adopted. Alderman Webster moved,—"That the Municipal Association be requested to furnish legal opinion on the following questions:—(a) Is it legal for a council to expend £3000 on additions to a Town Hall before obtaining permission to borrow such sum and advertising same, together with purpose for which such loan is required? (b) Can £3000 lawfully be taken from the general rates and applied to the building of additions to a Town Hall? (c) Can a council legally expend a surplus to credit of night-pan and cesspit account in defraying the cost of building additions to a Town Hall?" Alderman Moseley seconded the motion pro forma, and after some discussion it was negatived by seven to three. The tender of Brown Brothers was accepted for culvert in Palace-street at 9s 3d per foot. The statement of accounts showed the general fund overdrawn to the amount of £5810 9s 10d, against which other accounts showed a credit of £2524 16s 3d.

PADDINGTON.

This council met on the 26th June. Present—Alderman Dillon (Mayor), Thomas J. West, John White, W. Brown, D. Brown, J. Robinson, A. Walker, R. W. Usher, M. E. S. Whysall, G. P. Jones, and T. George. A letter from Mr. Charles W. Osborne, solicitor, claiming compensation for injuries sustained by having been thrown from his cab, owing to the alleged unsafe condition of Begg-street, was referred to a committee for report. Mr. G. Gosbell complained of the state of Glen-street. Mr. James W. Gosbell, jun., made a similar complaint, and begged for the removal of a bridge at the foot of Glen-street. The question of the removal of the bridge was referred to the works committee. Mr. F. Nash complained of the slippery condition of the Barrack Hill wood-blocking. A petition was received from over 40 residents of the neighbourhood, praying that the name of Begg-street might be changed to Bayview-street. Another petition was received from 36 ratepayers and residents of Brodie-street praying that the street might be asphalted in accordance with a promise made two years ago. Both petitions were referred to the works committee. The Mayor submitted a minute announcing that the Railway Commissioners had formally approved of the arrangement that the council should sweep the portion of Oxford-street taken up by the tramway; payment to be made for this service at the rate of £150 per annum. He had had a plan prepared of necessary alterations to the lavatories. The retaining-wall in Sutherland-street had given way slightly, and to prevent further damage through percolation it would be necessary to cover the street along the wall with a coating of tar-metal screenings. The lower end of Goodhope-street required immediate attention, and he asked for authority to do what was necessary without further delay. The deeds for the new Town Hall, signed by his Excellency Sir R. W. Duff, were now in possession of the council, a matter of considerable congratulation, as it was now upwards of three years since the land had been allotted to them. It became his duty to invite attention to the state of the finances. There were several heavy items of expenditure in this fortnight's list which would considerably reduce the credit balance, and the interest on the £50,000 was due on 1st July. As far as he could see, it would be necessary at a special meeting to devise means for the payment of this item. Another lot of blue metal was required, the stock being exhausted. The matters in the minute relating to Sutherland and Goodhope streets were referred to the works committee, and those relating to financial matters to the finance committee. The finance committee recommended for payment accounts amounting to £816 16s 11d (including a gas bill of £553 10s 7d). The inspector and rate collector suggested that when the Government grant for the Paddington reserve had been received it would be well if some portion was spent on improving the terraces, and he thought that suitable trees could be obtained from the State nursery, and planted along them, which would materially improve the appearance of the reserve. He also considered that along some streets in the borough tree planting might be resorted to with advantage. The Board of Water and Sewerage had intimated that now that the Darling Point sewer had been completed it was prepared to make connections which practically meant the abolition of cesspits and earth pans in the borough, except on the Begg Estate. On the motion of Alderman Whysall, seconded by Alderman Robinson, the council clerk was instructed to prepare and bring before the next meeting a statement of all works passed by the council and not completed, setting forth in order the dates of votes for them, together with the amounts of such votes, and the sum, if any, expended.

BALMAIN.

The Balmain Borough Council met on Tuesday night. There were present the Mayor (Alderman J. J. Wheeler), Aldermen J. A. Brodie, George Clubb, J.P., J. M'Donald, J.P., J. Adams, D. H. Easton, John Clubb, J.P., Alex. Milne, and O. H. Chidgey. The Railway Commissioners notified, with reference to council's letter complaining that water from the crane at the Gladstone Park tram terminus had caused a hole in the roadway, that they have approved of an area of 12ft. by 10ft. at the place being wood-blocked, and this it was contemplated would remove all cause for complaint. The Sir George Dibbs testimonial fund committee made an appeal to the council for assistance towards the fund. It decided to take no action in the matter. The finance committee brought up a report relative to making provision for liquidating the debentures falling due in next March, and recommended that the Mayor and Aldermen Brodie, W. Cullen Ward, and H. B. Swan be appointed a sub-committee to consider the best means for liquidating the debt. The annual report of the valuers showed that the total assessments made were 6969, and the assessed value, after allowing for all appeals, was £187,705, and the rates receivable at 1s 4d in the £ totalled a sum of £12,513. The valuation of the council's property was £25,450. The report was unanimously adopted. Alderman Chidgey asked the Mayor whether the cost of the address presented to his Excellency the Governor on the occasion of his visit to the fireworks fête, and refreshments, amounting to over £12, were to be paid out of the funds of the borough? The Mayor answered yes. The following motions were carried:—"That the Mayor be instructed to obtain the opinion of the Hon. W. H. Pigott, M.L.C., as to whether the council has power to remit the rates on the Balmain Working Men's Institute." By Alderman Chidney,—"That this council is of opinion that the police force of Balmain is not sufficient for the safe protection of the borough, and that the Inspector-General of Police should immediately strengthen the force stationed in Balmain."

CAMPERDOWN.

At a meeting of the council, held on the 4th instant, there were present the Mayor (Alderman Porter), Aldermen Proctor, Larkin, Cahill, Morgan, Bonnett, and Terry. The Mayor submitted a minute which reported that he and the Mayor of Petersham had interviewed Professor Anderson Stuart with reference to the open drain at present running through the Johnston and Briggs estates. It had been pointed out that previously a large amount of drainage came from the Newtown side, but the sewerage connection having now been made it would be considerably abated. It had been further explained that the councils interested were not in a position to construct a covered drain at present. A promise, however, was given that every effort would be made to prevent any further nuisance arising from the drain. The chairman of the board also referred to the present house rubbish and garbage tip, and being assured that no residences are in the immediate vicinity of the site, it was decided to allow the tip to be used, seeing that no complaints had been received by the councils regarding it. The Mayor also reported in his minute that he had waited upon the chief Transit Commissioner in reference to the plying of 'buses along Booth-street, and was told that permission had been given for the 'buses to ply by this route without reference to the council, as the officers were not aware of the Camperdown Council's interest in the matter. The council resolved itself into committee to receive tenders for kerbing and guttering, and upon resuming the Mayor reported that no tender was accepted, as the amount voted for the work was less than the prices named in the tenders. Alderman Terry, who had the matter in hand, sought to supplement the amount voted by an additional amount, but as it was not a formal motion the Mayor could not accept it owing to the dissent of Alderman Larkin. Alderman Terry then asked if at the next meeting he could move for an additional amount to be voted to carry on the work. The Mayor replied in the affirmative.

MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL.

THURSDAY EVENING.

In the Stock and Share market to-day the list of transactions was rather more numerous than usual. Commercial Bank of Sydney, new shares, 2½ paid, were dealt in at 10; other banks being quoted as before. There were no transactions in [illegible]. Australian Mutual Fire and Mercantile Mutual were dealt in at late quotations. Castlemaine and Wood Brothers were quitted at a concession of 3d, Marshall's also being sold at a like reduction. Beyond a sale of Colonial Sugar at last quotations, no business was done, and miscellaneous stocks were all unaltered.

The following sales were reported at the Sydney Stock Exchange at noon to-day:—Australian Mutual Fire Insurance, 12s; Mercantile Mutual, 5s 6d; Castlemaine and Wood Bros.' Brewery, 15s 3d; Marshall's, 2s 3d; Colonial Sugar, 26½. And at 4 o'clock: Commercial Bank of Sydney, Limited, 2½ paid, 10. The closing quotations were:—

Although the accounts received to-day by the banks from some of the remote districts of the colony show that traders there were more or less inconvenienced by the lockup of funds and other adverse conditions, and that bills were not in consequence quite so well met as in the city and nearer districts, the "fourth" of the month has, on the whole, passed over quite as well as could be expected. In another month the remaining banks in course of reconstruction will probably be open, and banking affairs will be still more settled. The time is getting nearer when the proceeds of the next wool harvest will be available, and as the season is a favourable one, everything tends towards recovery from the prevailing depression. No doubt the diminution of expenditure from the falling-off of borrowed money will have to be counted upon in future estimates of trade. But even with that deduction, any well-directed effort of the population in the development of the resources of the country ought to furnish a magnificent income that will give conditions of prosperity not surpassed in any other part of the world.

There appears to be a good deal of concern in London about what Victoria is going to do with respect to the redemption of £2,107,000 5 per cent. debentures maturing on the 1st January next. At first it was said that the banks were in favour of a proposal that the loan should be converted into 4 per cent. stock with a currency of three or four years. Then it was suggested that it should take power to extend the 5 per cent. debentures for some years. The Victorian Treasurer was quite alive to the situation, and in April he said that if debenture-holders in England did not agree to accept reasonable terms for the conversion of the loan the money could easily be obtained in the colony out of the accumulations in the savings banks. This was exaggerated in England into the statement that the loan was to be raised in the colony. Now we are told that there is a strong feeling in financial circles in London that the Government proposal ought to be made public. No doubt in the latter half of the year money is usually dearer than in the first half or about the middle. But to have to accept 98 for a 4 per cent. loan is a very serious comedown for a colony that obtained over 102 for a 3½ per cent. loan three or four years ago. To pay 4½ per cent. when the colony had previously borrowed at 3½ per cent., being an increase of 26 per cent. in the cost of money, is a very heavy handicap against the profitableness of anything done in the colonies with borrowed money. Of course, as we have before pointed out, where the money is being converted from a 5 per cent. rate, as borrowed in the last generation, the conversion will come as a saving; but, if our colonial borrowing policy had been framed on a basis of moderation the loan would now be redeemed on a 3½ per cent. basis, and not on a 4 per cent. at a discount. News from Melbourne indicates that the Treasurer hopes to get par for the loan before the end of the year. Present quotations hardly suggest the possibility of so high a price.

The silver market evidently continues in a very unsettled condition, for though the price has steadily gone up from 2s 8d to 2s 10½d per oz., and our London correspondent says that it is likely to go to 3s per oz., it is added that it is then expected to fall to 2s 6d per oz. This seems to indicate that the price is being forced up artificially. The closing down of a large number of mines in Colorado will lessen the production there, and no doubt the output will be reduced in other silver-producing countries. Of course everything points to a smaller demand for the metal for currency purposes. No doubt the eastern countries will still absorb large quantities for ornaments and other uses. But at present there are no data to enable anything like a satisfactory estimate to be formed of the future of the market.

Despite the heavy losses incurred by the Government of the United States by the operation of the Silver Purchase law, sectional interests are so strong that attempts are being made to uphold it. But it can hardly be supposed that these will prevail. Not only is the Government making loss, but the general trading interests of America are greatly disturbed by the uncertainty of the silver legislation. On this subject Bradstreet's remarks:—

The panic in the industrial shares, the general shrinkage of stock values and failures of brokerage houses, are recorded with perfect accuracy as the response of the money market to the uncertainty surrounding the currency question and the prospect of protracted pressure before a definite settlement can be arrived at through the action of the coming Congress. Behind every reassuring expression there remains a marked feeling of distrust so long as the Sherman Silver Act, the underlying cause of all the difficulty, is still in force. Temporary improvements and rallies in the stock market do not, in the opinion of those best qualified to judge, have any real or lasting effect, while the foundation of the existing distrust continues to form an obstacle to any genuine amelioration of the situation. The spasm through which Wall-street is just passing is merely another manifestation of the distrust which the continuance of this measure involves. The policy of the administration affords no hope of ready relief. It being apparently determined that the only way to arouse public sentiment in relation to the existing silver legislation is to enforce it, which involves the taking of very severe medicine, of which the present events are only a sample.

Since this was printed we have heard of further bank failures in the United States, all aggravated, more or less, if not caused altogether, by the currency difficulty. No doubt the bank failures in Colorado were almost entirely due to this cause. As it has turned out, however, it is not the ordinary developments which have brought about the prompt action of President Cleveland, but the Indian legislation. It is now seen to be hopeless by others than the Silver party to attempt to continue the existing law, and when Congress meets next month, instead of in September, as at first proposed, doubtless the Act will be repealed. As the Silver party only obtained the present law as a compromise, it is hardly likely, after the ill effects of there have been seen, that the moderate party will now give support to the extreme views of free coinage, which would mean the adoption of a silver standard at no distant date.

A day or two back we published the general revenue returns of the four principal Australian colonies for the past two years. These figures included income from all sources, taxation, land, railway, and other revenue. The proceeds of Customs are more generally regarded as the revenue which gives an indication of the prevailing conditions. Taking first the Customs figures of the quarter, we find the following:—

CUSTOMS.

—	Quarter ended June 30, 1892.	Quarter ended June 30, 1893.	Decrease. Amount.	Percentage.
New South Wales	£681,000	£539,000	£142,000	20·0
Victoria	585,000	323,000	262,000	44·8
Queensland	270,000	255,000	15,000	5·5
South Australia	205,000	195,000	10,000	4·8
	£1,741,000	£1,311,000	£430,000	24·7

The feature of this return is the enormous shrinkage of the Victorian figures, amounting to no less than 44·8 per cent. The reduction in the New South Wales revenue is serious enough, amounting to 20·0 per cent. The decline in the figures of the other two colonies is more moderate. But an all-round reduction of 24·7 per cent., or about one-fourth, tests the depth of the depression on the quarter when the general banking position has locked up the money of the country. Taking the figures for the year, we get the following totals in each of the different colonies:—

—	Year ended June 30, 1892.	Year ended June 30, 1893.	Decrease. Amount.	Percentage.
N. S. Wales	£2,525,000	£2,381,000	£144,000	5·6
Victoria	2,380,000	1,730,000	650,000	27·2
Queensland	1,144,000	1,103,000	41,000	3·5
S. Australia	615,000	538,000	77,000	12·5
	£6,663,000	£5,771,000	£912,000	13·6

It will be seen that here again the chief shrinkage was in Victoria, amounting to 27·2 per cent., over one-third of the proportion having occurred in the last quarter. In South Australia the next most important reduction occurred, of 12·5 per cent. Although the Customs tariff is generally much higher in Victoria than in New South Wales, the revenue contributed in this colony is 27 per cent. more than in Victoria. The Customs figures per head of population in each of the colonies are as follows:—

—	Per head of Population. 1892. £ s. d.	1893. £ s. d.	Shrinkage. s. d.
New South Wales	2 3 6	2 0 0	3 6
Victoria	2 0 2	1 9 10	10 4
Queensland	2 16 8	2 12 4	3 4
South Australia	1 17 10	1 12 0	6 10

With duties on a much higher scale in Victoria than in New South Wales, it will be seen that the Victorian population contributes 25 per cent. less than the people of this colony. South Australia also has a higher tariff than this colony, yet its contributions only amount to £1 12s per head, as compared with £2 in New South Wales. In Queensland, however, the receipts from Customs amount to £2 12s 4d per head, nearly twice as much as contributed in Victoria. The tariff in Queensland is generally higher than in this colony, most of the articles being taxed 25 per cent., where ours are taxed 10 to 15 per cent.

The Customs returns of the trade of Sydney for each week of the current year, as compared with the corresponding weeks of last year, are as follow:—

THE IMPORT MARKET.

The improved feeling which has been recently noted in the Import market continues to be manifest, and the tendency is in the direction of improvement. Station orders are coming to hand more freely, and impart a little more animation to general business. In many staple lines prices show a hardening tendency, and as stocks have lately been considerably reduced and importations continue small, the position bids fair to favour holders.

A meeting of creditors in the estate of a Darlinghurst grocer was held to-day. The statement submitted showed assets amounting to £1670, liabilities £1342, giving a surplus (subject to realisation) of £328. An offer of 10s in the £ was made by the debtor, and it was resolved to assign the estate provisionally to two of the largest creditors, who will have power to take such action as they may think best in the interest of the whole number.

In tea a fair business has been done since the recent auction at prices which, for many grades, show a tendency towards firmness. Several hundred half-chests have been sold at current quotations. Common congou may be quoted about 5½d to 6d. A parcel of about 200 half-chests panyong was taken at 7d; Ceylons had attention; 50 half-chests broken pekoe were taken at 10d; 70 half-chests fine 13d, and a line of choice on private terms. Samples of the new season's Indians have been liquored by the trade, and are highly spoken of as being considerably better than the teas which usually come forward at the commencement of the Calcutta season. About 100 packages pekoe souchongs and pekoes were sold at 7½d to 9d. A private cable from Calcutta states that the s.s. Mombassa left on the 2nd with 170,000lb. tea for Melbourne, and probably about 40,000lb. or 50,000lb. for Sydney. The total export to date was 390,000lb. Mail advices from Foochow dated 5th June say that up to that time buying had been almost altogether confined to purchases for London, Australian buyers awaiting further developments in the colonies.

Sugar continues firm, with a limited business. The sales mentioned comprised fair parcels Taikoo China sugar, £25 10s; a truckload grainy yellow, £22 10s; and a small lot of ration at £20.

In dried fruit not a great deal of business was mentioned. A parcel of 100 boxes old eleme was sold at 3½d; 100 boxes sultanas at 4½d; 175 boxes dates, in 50 and 25 box lots, at 2d.

General groceries showed a fair amount of activity. Half-sardines were offering pretty freely from a neighbouring colony. A cable message received by an importing house advised an advance of 3s per dozen in Crosse and Blackwell's jams, jellies, and marmalade. Other makers will also advance prices, the dry weather in England having, it appears, destroyed the prospects of the fruit crop. The transactions mentioned included:—D.R.J. candles, 50-box lots, 6½d; extra Goudas, to arrive Duke of Argyle, at agents' prices; 100 cases C. and B. vinegar, 6s 6d; 2 parcels half-sardines, one of 50 and another of 20 cases, on private terms; Morton's half-pint castor oil, 3s 9d; 25 cases Hogarth's pickles, 5s 4½d; 35 packages Lipton's packet tea; 40 boxes Colman's mustard (quarters), 4s; 1 ton linseed, £14; 12 cases Robinson's patent groats; 50 cases large coffee essence (Symington's), to arrive—25 cases small, spot; Manuel Garcia cigars, £16 10s to £23; 5 tons oatmeal, in bulk, £12 15s; German fine salt, 25-ton lots, 65s.

Rice for the island trade was in fair request, and sales, totalling about 30 tons, were reported at a concession on £8 10s. Best table rice moving in ton lots at £14 10s, but to move a fair parcel a concession on this price would be accepted.

Kerosene continued firm, notwithstanding the arrival of the Carleton, and holders who had been selling at 13½d refused to go on at that price. Business was done in castor oil, sales totalling 200 cases being reported at 2s 8d. Holders of China oil now ask 2s 11½d. A sale of overtime goods was held to-day by order of the Customs authorities by Messrs. Harris and Ackman. There was a large attendance, and satisfactory prices were obtained, the competition among opium buyers being specially spirited. For four lots of this commodity over £100 each was realised.

The market in investment stocks to-day was without improvement, and a limited business was done. Both Metropolitan Gas and Melbourne Tramway continue to receive support. No surprise was manifested on the Stock Exchange at the small amount of tenders for the Metropolitan Board of Works loan to-day. The brokers considered that the rate of interest proposed to be offered, viz., 4½ per cent., was too low to ensure the successful flotation; and, further, the brokers took little interest in it, as the Exchange was not consulted in the matter either of the rate of interest or the price of issue, which was in marked contrast to the action in connection with the late issue of Government Treasury bonds, which the Exchange largely helped to make a marked success. The principal sales were:—Treasury bonds, four years' currency, £100 15s; City of Melbourne Bank, 15s; Royal Bank of Australia, 17s, 17s 6d; Trustees, Executors, and Agency, 59s; Melbourne Tramway and Omnibus, 9s 4½d, 9s 6d; Silverton Tramway, 27s; Tarrawingee Flux, 25s; Melbourne Hydraulic Power, 14s.

THE PRODUCE MARKETS.—THURSDAY.

THE REDFERN SALES.

At the Redfern terminus produce market this morning 53 trucks of forage were submitted to a good attendance of buyers. Chaff ruled a shade easier. Lucerne was in better request, while other lines were unchanged. Oaten all hay chaff realised to 4s 1d. Oaten hay continued to sell fairly well at the lower range of values, and as high as 6s 1d was received for prime quality. Lucerne hay from George's Plains brought 4s 5d, but the quality of this sample was extra prime. Inferior and medium lots continued dull, although a rather smaller supply was forward this morning. Maize advanced in sympathy with prices along the street. A large number of trucks still remain outside the shade waiting their turn for sale.

TRADE IN SUSSEX-STREET.

Business, although a little better than yesterday was still dull, and no extensive transactions were reported. Both bran and pollard were decidedly firmer, stocks being rather light. Flour continued dull without change. The most important feature in the feed-grain market was a further hardening in maize with an advance in price. Notwithstanding the fact that the Rosedale and the Macleay arrived this morning from Port Macquarie and the Manning respectively with 1180 bags, the probability of an irregular service of boats from the Northern rivers during the continuance of the strike, and the manifest desire of farmers to hold for better prices, have had the effect of sending this cereal up to from 3s 7d to 3s 8d per bushel. About this time of the year the maize market generally has a firmer tendency. The farmers have to send in supplies in June in order to enable them to pay their rents, which fall due at the end of that month, but this being now over they have a freer hand. Besides, owing to the partial failure of the crops this year through the floods, holders think that better prices must be forthcoming in the near future, and they are therefore trying to force what they consider to be the inevitable. The first of the New Zealand crop, however, has now come to hand, and more is expected shortly. The extent of supplies from that colony will soon begin to have a controlling effect upon the values here. Oats remain firm. The shortage in New Zealand crops and the favourable tone of the London market seem to indicate that better prices will soon be forthcoming. Chaff was in good supply and in fair demand. The Emu arrived during the day with 1800 bags, while the Adelaide came forward later on with about the same quantity. Prime green well-cut chaff was in good request, but inferior and medium qualities were dull. Lucerne was a shade better. At the railway a truckload brought 4s 5d per cwt., but inferior continued as dull as hitherto. The potato market ruled firmer. The Lubra arrived yesterday with 2458 bags from Mount Gambier (Beachport), but they have not yet been placed on the market. No further supplies of Circular Heads have come to hand; but at the railway about 60 tons a day continue to arrive from the country districts. Onions were a shade better.

In the dairy branch butter continued in good request. Cheese was plentiful, and the demand was a shade better. Very few eggs were available, and prices ruled nominally at 1s 1d to 1s 2d per dozen. Poultry continued dull.

The closing quotations were:—

Flour.—Poor demand. N.S.W. roller (new) selling slowly at from £8 12s 6d to £8 17s 6d; city millers quote £8 15s to £9. Victorian roller, £8 15s to £8 17s 6d per ton.

About 39,000 sheep were penned at the Homebush fat stock sales yesterday to a fair attendance of buyers. The Sydney Meat Company operated freely, prices for prime quality being well maintained throughout. CITY YARDS.

Messrs. William Inglis and Son.—32 milch cows at £3 to £11, and one extra quality at £16; 15 dry cows at £1 5s to £4. Calves: 8 (Mackenzie) at 10s to 21s, 10 (Henly) at 14s to 16s 6d, 5 (Gorley) at 12s to 16s, and 41 in smaller lots at 5s 6d to 20s. Pigs: 36 (Boyd) at 11s to 21s 6d, 22 (Manning River) at 16s to 34s, 15 (Windsor) at 20s to 37s, 41 suburban lots at 10s to 45s, 40 store pigs at 5s to 13s 6d.

Messrs. Pitt, Son, and Badgery.—Fat Calves: The market was fairly supplied for the week. There was a good demand for prime quality vealers, which sold at an advance of fully 5s per head over last week's rates, best making up to 40s; good, 35s; others, from 20s up. We sold for various owners at above prices. Fat pigs: Market still very dull and prices low; heavy fat pigs, 40s; prime bacon sorts, 45s to 54s; good, 30s to 37s; prime porkers, 18s to 21s; others, from 10s up. We sold for various owners at quotations.

Messrs. Brunker and Wolfe.—Calf and pig market: Better values were obtained for all stock yarded by us this week. Prime quality vealers were scarce; large sizes brought 40s to 50s, small sizes 20s to 35s, medium quality sold from 15s to 55s according to sizes. Bacon pigs were in large demand and made 35s to 50s; porkers, 12s 6d to 20s 6d; suckers, 3s to 5s; stores, 6s 6d to 11s each. We sold 23 pigs for D. Lindsey at 20s to 26s, 23 suckers at 3s; 30 pigs for M. Fear at 12s 6d to 30s; 45 vealers for Joseph Marks at 17s 6d to 30s; 38 vealers for J. Walker at 12s to 27s; and smaller lots at quotations.

Messrs. Hill, Clark, and Co.—Fat Calves: Market fairly well supplied this week. Prices show very little alteration in the previous week's quotations. Sales were very brisk, although particularly noticeable in good saleable young calves. We quote extra prime and heavy vealers 40s to 45s; good, 25s to 30s; medium, 17s to 20s; and others from 10s. We sold 25, from Blayney, at £1 5s. Fat Pigs: Market glutted. Prices frightfully bad, except for prime baconers, which sold fairly well. We sold a few from the Northern rivers at full market rates. We quote best baconers to 32s; good, 25s to 27s 6d; best porkers, 17s 6d to 18s 6d; good, 13s; and others from 8s.

Messrs. Ellis and Co.—Milch cows at £2 18s to £8 2s 6d, dry cows at £1 1s to £2 10s, fat cows at £2 15s to £4 3s, fat calves at 7s 6d to 44s. Store Pigs: 98 for M'Phee at 5s 9d to 13s 6d each.

Messrs. J. C. Young and Co.—Fat Calves: A moderate supply penned this week, representing all qualities, which met with a brisk demand at higher rates, competition for small good quality calves being exceedingly keen. We sold 22 calves from Oakendale to 30s, averaging £1 4s 6d. Fat Pigs: A heavy supply penned on Tuesday and the market was very low, but on Wednesday a lighter supply was penned and the market showed considerable improvement, especially for prime quality. We sold 10 pigs from Camden, £1 2s 11d; 15 from Mulgoa, averaging 17s 2d. From Mudgee, 28 pigs to £2, averaging £1 5s 11d; 32 suckers to 4s. MEETINGS.

CO-OPERATIVE VILLAGE SETTLEMENTS.

The committee appointed at the mass meeting at the Town Hall met on Monday night. There was a full attendance. The appointment by the Government of the board of control was discussed, and satisfaction expressed that half of the number were selected from members of the committee. Amongst other matters decided on, it was resolved,—"That, in response to the call of the Minister for Lands, this committee will collect money to co-operate with and assist from time to time the board of control appointed by the Governor in Council to settle people in co-operation in village settlements." An addition to the sub-committee was appointed to arrange as to what methods should be adopted to raise subscriptions, &c., &c.; also that a circular letter be forwarded to the applicants who have sent filled-in forms to this committee recommending them at once to apply for the new form now being issued at the Labour Bureau.

LONDON MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The annual meeting of the ladies' branch of the London Missionary Society was held in the Congregational School hall, Pitt-street, Sydney, yesterday afternoon. There was a large attendance of ladies. Mrs. J. H. Goodlet presided.

Miss HARDIE, the secretary of the ladies' branch, read the report for the year, which stated that the ordinary subscriptions were in advance of any former year, being £469 9s 11d, and including boxes and parcels, the income was £530 2s 3d. Thus, in the face of a year of unusual depression, was very encouraging.

Mrs. LORD, wife of the Rev. T. Lord, a missionary from Madagascar, gave an account of the work among the Malagasy women and girls, and described their social position. She explained that before the missionaries went to Madagascar the women were badly treated, but the effect of the work of the missionaries and their wives had been wonderful.

The Rev. T. LORD also spoke of the missionary work in Madagascar. There were numbers of schools where good work was being done.

The Rev. A. J. GRIFFITHS read the report of the Watchers' Band, which had been prepared by the secretary, Miss Mary Mullins. The report stated that the prayer union, which had received the name of the Watchers' Band, was first organised in London in March, 1892, in connection with the London Missionary Society, its object being to band together the members of those Churches which formed the constituency of the London Missionary Society for persevering and believing prayer that God might follow the work of the society with His power and blessing. The New South Wales branch now numbered 234 members, these being scattered through Sydney and different parts of the colony.

The Rev. J. KING, of Melbourne, gave some particulars of the lady missionaries at the different stations. He said he hoped in the course of a few months to visit India, and perhaps next year he would be able to tell them, from actual knowledge, how the work was going on in India. The directors had asked him to go to India, feeling that they were building up Australian interests there. By that time another Australasian lady would be ready to join the Indian contingent. A young lady who was a B.A. of the Christchurch University had offered herself for the work. Her two sisters had agreed to each give £30 per annum towards her support. They had now another Australian lady at Canton—a Miss Wells. While they thought of the lady missionaries they must not forget the wives of the missionaries, who did good work.

The Rev. H. M. DAUNCEY gave some particulars of the work in Samoa.

Mrs. ALLEN moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. Goodlet for presiding.

Mrs. BETTS seconded the motion, which was carried.

Miss HARDIE said the society was about to lose the services of Mrs. Scott, who had ever been ready to assist in the work. They deeply regretted the loss, and their best wishes would go with her to England.

The Rev. J. KING, on behalf of the society, thanked Mrs. Scott and also Miss Scott for the help they had rendered to the society.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

The weekly meeting of the Board of Health was held on Wednesday. There were present:—The president (Dr. Anderson Stuart), the Inspector-General of Police, the Hon. D. MacLaurin, the Hon. D. Mackellar, Sir Alfred Roberts, Dr. S. T. Knaggs, and Mr. E. W. Knox. A letter was read from the Stockton Council drawing attention to the position of the quarantine buoy at Newcastle, and suggesting its removal. It was decided that the Stockton Council be informed that the present was a most suitable position. Draft regulations and instructions to Public school teachers with regard to the health of their pupils and the sanitary state of the schools were considered and adopted. A report was read from the local Acting Government medical officer stating that diphtheria had practically disappeared from the Cowra district. Reports on sanitary inspections of the following districts were read:—Albury, Wagga, Hay, Young, and Yass. It was directed that in the cases of Albury and Yass letters should be addressed to the councils drawing their attention to the matters which, in the opinion of the board, require amendment. A letter from a local medical practitioner in North Sydney drawing attention to the prevalence of scarlet fever in that district, and requesting to be informed if any steps could be taken to prevent infected persons spreading the disease by travelling in public vehicles, attending meetings, &c., was read; and it was directed that a reply should be forwarded stating that the board regrets that, owing to the absence of legislation dealing with infectious disease, unfortunately no action can be taken in the matter. Reports on inspections of the dairies in the police districts of Goulburn and Raymond Terrace were read, and it was directed that copies should be furnished to the local authorities, with letters recommending that the suggested improvements should be carried out. A report was also received stating that the Yass Council had taken no steps to administer the Act, and it was decided that the council should be informed that they are charged under the Act with the duty of administering it. Reports on inspections of slaughter-houses in the Goulburn and Ryde police districts were read. These reports disclosed that the slaughtering establishments were generally unsatisfactory, although they vary little in form, and are not worse than those in other districts already reported upon. Reports by the Government Veterinarian on action taken under the Diseased Animals and Meat Act during the week ended 1st July, 1893, were read, and showed that since the 28th ultimo eight diseased quarters of beef had been seized at the Government Meat Market, Darling Harbour, on four several occasions.

LIBERTY PLAINS HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.

The monthly exhibition and business meeting of the above society was held in the Cumberland Hall, Auburn, on Tuesday evening. Alderman Corbett, of Rookwood, presided in the absence of Dr. Furnival (president) and the Rev. H. Dunlop (vice-president). In the competitive section for arranged baskets of flowers some choice exhibits were shown. Miss Hall, of Hobart, acted as judge. The following were the prize-winners:—First, Mrs. Moores; second, Miss Garthwaite; highly commended, Mrs. R. Arthur. On the motion of Alderman Garthwaite, a vote of thanks was accorded to Miss Hall for judging the exhibits. Mr. Hodson read a paper on "The Cultivation of Hyacinths," for which he was accorded a vote of thanks. Among the exhibitors were Miss Hall, Messrs. J. Burrows, R. Arthur, Garthwaite, J. Carter, W. M. Thomas, and Alpin.

CASTLE HILL AGRICULTURAL ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the Castle Hill Agricultural and Horticultural Association was held on Wednesday evening. Mr. J. C. Hunt occupied the chair. The annual report and balance-sheet were read and adopted. The past year had not been so successful financially as its predecessors. The receipts were not as large, and the expenditure had been considerably increased, principally in the direction of increased prize money and improvements to the ground. The profits on the year's working amounted to £19 14s 6d, which, considering the bad times, was a matter for congratulation. One hundred horse-stalls had been erected, costing £135. The parade-ring had also been improved, and it was claimed that the association had now as good a ground as any country association in the colony. Reference was made to the loss sustained by the death of the president, the late Mr. E. H. Acres. The election of officers took place, with the following result:—President, Mr. J. W. Foster, J.P.; vice-presidents, Messrs. J. C. Hunt, W. E. Williams, and Stuart Cotton; council, Messrs. F. H. G. Rogers, J. R. Wood, E. Fuller, E. J. Black, A. J. James, W. James, G. T. Roughley, S. Fagan, G. Fuller, J. Stranger, E. H. Thiele, W. H. Tuckwell, jun., L. Bellamy, S. Gilbert, H. R. Whittel, J. Roddan, A. E. Thorne, G. B. Moran, G. E. Perry, and T. Thompson, jun.; treasurer, S. J. Moore; auditors, Messrs. J. R. Wood and J. C. Hunt. The name of the association was altered to The Castle Hill and District Agricultural and Horticultural Association.

SYDNEY MUNICIPAL COUNCIL.

A meeting of the finance committee of the City Council was held yesterday afternoon. There were present—the Mayor, Aldermen Playfair, Lees, M. Chapman, Taylor, Hart, Landers, Kippax, Beare, H. Chapman, Dean, Fowler, J. Harris, Hughes, Rainford, and Simmons. Twenty-two tenders were received for the construction of 12 trucks for the Belmore Market. The estimate was £84. The lowest tender, that of Mr. Luke Muras, of Cambridge-road, Glebe, was recommended for acceptance. Fifteen tenders were received for fittings for the chilling rooms for the meat market. The lowest tender, that of Messrs. R. Joiner and Sons, for £218, was recommended for acceptance. The estimate was £260. Alderman Landers drew attention to the state of the Pyrmont Bridge-road, and urged that a deputation from the council should wait on the Minister for Works to ask the Government to repair the road and hand it over to the council. The Mayor explained that the matter had been brought under the attention of the Government about a fortnight ago, and no reply had yet been received. The matter was allowed to stand over. The committee proceeded to consider the amended traffic bylaws. Clause 1, "Vehicles, &c., to be driven at a walking pace over crossings," was agreed to. Clause 2, "Vehicles to be driven on left side," was agreed to. Alderman Hughes moved a new clause, to stand clause 3, "Bicycles, &c., not to be used on footpaths." The amendment was agreed to. Clause 4, "Vehicles to stand alongside footpath," was agreed to. Alderman Hughes moved a new clause, to stand clause 5, "Drag-chains to be provided and used." The amendment was agreed to. Alderman Hughes moved a new clause, to stand clause 6, "Alarm-bell to be carried and used on bicycles, &c." The amendment was agreed to. Clause 7, "Lights to be carried on vehicles, &c.," was agreed to. Clauses 8 and 9, "Drivers of vehicles to give way," and "Drivers to give notice when stopping," were agreed to. Clause 10, "Drivers of omnibuses not to loiter or stop except to pick up or set down passengers," was agreed to after some discussion on a proposed amendment that 'buses should not be allowed to stop longer than one minute except at their destination. The amendment was negatived. Alderman Hughes moved a new clause, to stand clause 11,—"Hackney carriages and cabs not to loiter." The amendment was agreed to. Alderman Landers moved a new clause, to stand clause 12, "Forbidding obstruction of officers or servants of the Municipal Council of Sydney in the execution of their duty." The amendment was agreed to. Clause 13, "Regulating travelling advertisements, &c." gave rise to considerable discussion, some of the aldermen feeling that it would prohibit any advertisements whatever being placed on vehicles. Finally the clause was agreed to. Clause 14, "Goods not to be placed on footway," was agreed to. Clause 15, "Regulating advertisements on verandahs," was withdrawn, the matter having been otherwise provided for. Clause 16, "Regulating processions, &c." Alderman Kippax said this clause would stop the Salvation Army, processions of friendly and other societies, unless permission was obtained from the City Council or Mayor. He moved the omission of the clause. The clause was negatived on the voices. Clauses 17 to 25, "Musicians to move on," "persons not to stand or loiter in streets," "not to give or throw handbills, &c., on streets," "Offensive or indecent placards," "Placing fruitskins, &c., on roadway," "Notices not be painted on pavement," "Dust and dirt to be removed within certain hours," "Nightsoil not to be conveyed through the city," and "Penalty," were agreed to without amendment. On the motion of Alderman Hughes, a new clause was added providing that no driver or rider of a horse or other animal should be away from the animal while in a street or public place, so as to be unable to have the full control thereof. The preamble was agreed to, and the bylaws were recommended for adoption.
